Statement of Commission Policy

ONTARIO SECURITIES COMMISSION POLICY #3-20

REVISED POLICY

APPEALS TO COMMISSION BY WAY OF HEARING AND REVIEW UNDER SECTION 28: PROCEDURE

(1) Notices: Where Filed

A request for a hearing and review is made by the written notice required by section 28 (or subsection 3 of section 3) of The Securities Act. The request may be filed on behalf of a person or company primarily affected by a direction, decision, order or ruling of the Director or a Commissioner. The notice may be sent either by registered mail or filed with the Secretary to the Commission, 8th floor, 555 Yonge Street, Toronto. For this purpose, the Secretary has been designated by the Director to receive notices under section 28 on the Director's behalf.

(2) Filing Fee

Each notice or written request for a hearing and review must be accompanied by a filing fee of $10.00 payable to the Treasurer of Ontario.

(3) Form of Notice or Request

The written notice or request for the hearing and review need not be a formal document so long as it identifies with sufficient certainty the decision being appealed from and the interest of the party filing the notice in the decision appealed from.

(4) Record of the Proceedings Appealed From

Section 20 of The Statutory Powers Procedure Act, 1971, requires the tribunal (the Director or the Commissioner as the case may be) to compile the following record of the proceedings before him:

- (a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceedings were commenced;
- (b) the notice of any hearing;
- (c) any intermediate orders made by the tribunal;
- (d) all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documents may be used in evidence in any proceedings;
- (e) the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and
- (f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefore, where reasons have been given.

(5) Transmittal of Record

Upon receipt of the request for the hearing and review, the Secretary to the Commission will obtain the record from the tribunal. This record will be then made available to the appellant or his counsel through the Staff Counsel assigned to the appeal at a mutually convenient time and place in order to assist the appellant in the preparation of his appeal. Where Staff Counsel has new evidence he proposes to introduce, not available at the original hearing, he will advise the appellant as to the substance of this proposed new evidence.

(6) Transcript of Oral Evidence: Proceedings

Where the tribunal has obtained a copy of the oral evidence and other proceedings before it this transcript will form part of the record referred to in (4). If the transcript does not form part of the record, the Secretary to the Commission will ask the person or company requesting the hearing and review to order and arrange to deliver for the use of the Commission at his or its cost two copies of the transcript of the proceedings which the appellant wishes reviewed by the Commission.

(7) Order Dispensing with Transcripts

Where the appellant is of the opinion that a transcript of the oral evidence taken at the hearing before the tribunal is unnecessary to effectively deal with the hearing and review, or where for some other reason considered appropriate by the Commission upon application to the Commission, the Commission may make an order dispensing with a transcript of the oral evidence or directing the tribunal to furnish the transcript.

(8) Stay of Proceedings

Application may be made to the Commission prior to the hearing and review for an order staying the decision of the Director or Commissioner until the hearing and review is concluded.

(9) Statement of Points to be Argued:
Additional Evidence

Without limiting the introduction of new or additional relevant evidence by any party to the hearing and review, where possible, the Commission requests that five copies of a statement of the points to be argued or of the fact and law being relied upon be filed with the Commission at least 48 hours before the date fixed for the hearing and review.

(10) Setting Down for Hearing: Notice

Upon the record being received by the Secretary to the Commission, the Commission will designate a panel to hear the appeal and fix a date for the hearing and review. Notice of the time and place fixed by the Commission then will be sent to all parties by the Secretary.

Decisions, Orders and Rulings

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT AND
IN THE MATTER OF GEORGE WESTON LIMITED

Hearing: February 12th, 1974

Present: E.A. Royce, Chairman,

R.J. Carew) George Weston
Limited

G. Vordemberge - Staff Counsel

This is an application by George Weston Limited ("Weston") pursuant to section 132(1)(c) (iii) of The Securities Act for relief from the requirement that the accounts of Loblaw Companies Limited ("Loblaw") be consolidated with those of George Weston Limited for the year ended December 31st, 1973, in accordance with the recommendation of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA"). The shares of George Weston Limited have been listed and posted for trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange since April 19th, 1929, and accordingly the company is subject to the financial reporting requirements of Part XII of The Securities Act including sections 120 and 128.

As at December 18th, 1972, the Ontario Securities Commission, together with other Canadian provincial securities administrators, adopted what became National Policy No. 27. This policy declared that the pronouncements of the Accounting and Auditing Research Committee of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants to the extent set out in the research recommendations in the "CICA Handbook" would be considered "generally accepted accounting principles".

In taking this position the securities administrators, benefiting from the experience in the United States of America, were attempting to avoid the confusion in methods of financial presentation which had occurred in that jurisdiction. So far as the Ontario Commission were concerned it benefited in coming to this conclusion from the recommendation of its Financial Disclosure Advisory Board and Staff Analyst.

In January of 1973, the CICA adopted as a recommendation that where a company has one or more subsidiaries that company's financial statements should be prepared on a consolidated basis excepting in rare circumstances. It was conceded in this application that the rare circumstances contemplated in that recommendation do not exist.

The recommendation was promulgated part way through Weston's financial year which ends on December 31st. In order to consolidate, it is important that the financial year end for the Loblaw group of companies should coincide with Weston's. Steps have now been taken to make this possible. However, it is the basis of this application that Weston's would find it extraordinarily difficult, if not impossible, to consolidate their statements with Loblaw's as at December 31st, 1973. They, therefore, request that they be exempted for that year end and have undertaken to produce consolidated statements as at the end of their 1974 fiscal year.

We have examined the facts set out in the application and the submissions made on behalf of the applicant and by the Commission's staff. Under all the circumstances, we find adequate grounds exist for granting the relief requested and the order will go in accordance with the request.

It is appropriate through these reasons to affirm our support through National Policy No. 27 to the recommendations of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

DATED at Toronto this 12th day of February, A.D. 1974.

K.E. Boast - Staff Counsel

This hearing was convened in accordance with the requirements of subsection 2 of section 144 of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 426, for the purpose of considering whether a temporary order made pursuant to that subsection on December 19th 1973, directing that all trading in the securities of Tipuani Gold Mines Limited ("Tipuani") should forthwith cease or should be further extended, varied or rescinded. Since satisfactory information was not provided to the Commission, we found it necessary to extend the temporary order. For the reasons detailed below, we have concluded that the temporary order may be rescinded effective with the opening of trading on Monday, March 11th, 1974. The facts and circumstances leading to this conclusion are as follows.

Tipuani is an Ontario company incorporated on April 5th, 1973. A preliminary prospectus was filed on May 3rd. The prospectus, dated June 12th, 1973, was accepted for filing by the Deputy Director-Filings on the same date. This prospectus qualified two offerings for sale to the public. The first of these was an offering of 100,000 shares underwritten by Herbert & Co. Securities Limited ("Herbert"), a broker-dealer, at .60¢ per share which were to be offered to the public at a maximum of .95¢ per share. The second offering was 85,000 shares received by Tully Investments Limited ("Tully"), being all of the shares free of the escrow imposed on the vendor consideration paid by Tipuani for its property in Bolivia. There was no maximum offering price imposed on the sale of the vendor shares.

The face page of the Tipuani prospectus noted the speculative nature of the company. It also noted that no market existed for its securities.

Herbert is controlled by Herbert West. Tully, according to Mr. West's evidence, is controlled by his sister-in-law, Marion West, and himself. It will be noted from the Commission's public records that it is the business of Herbert, as a broker-dealer, to promote and sponsor the sale of securities of speculative ventures such as Tipiani. Tully has been associated with these ventures as a vendor according to the prospectuses filed.

The property, known as the San Antonio property, was purchased by Tipuani from one Helmut Gaensel ("Gaensel") and a company controlled by Gaensel through an agreement entered in April, 1973. The vendor consideration settled upon was 850,000 shares of Tipuani, with 760,000 of these shares being divided equally between Gaensel and Tully but held in escrow and not available for sale, with the balance of 85,000 shares free of the escrow going to Tully. These were qualified for sale through the prospectus.

The engineer's report which accompanied the prospectus is dated April 10th, 1973, and was prepared by George R. Kent, P. Eng. Based upon a visit to the property and the area the previous year, Mr. Kent describes it as a placer prospect whose potential for placer gold is on the bedrock surface of an ancient river channel beneath the present river and perhaps from pay streaks in the gravels above. The property is considered poorly accessible and the report describes the difficulties commencing with a 270 kilometre journey on an all weather gravel road from La Paz, a further 80 kilometres over a recently built unsurfaced road which is treacherous in wet weather, has many steep gradients, barely negotiable switchbacks and difficult river crossings. Final access to the property is by an old Inca trail, involving six or seven hours by foot over 20 kilometres with near vertical climbs of 500 metres and five cable crossings of the river. Aircraft fly an unscheduled service from La Paz to within 70 kilometres of the property. The valley is deep, the slope is steep and the report describes the problems of landslides and heavy rains. He concludes, as to the San Antonio property,

"The San Antonio and other nearby properties have a definite potential for profitable exploitation. None have been properly explored and assessed in the North American sense of the term even though modest production recently occurred on the nearby Elizabeth concession."

In the light of these facts, and the recommendation by Mr. Kent that a development program estimated at $42,790 be undertaken, Herbert priced the issue. The prospectus discloses that of the $60,000 which was to be provided by Herbert, Tipuani had agreed to advance up to $42,000 to Gaensel by way of prepayment if required of the cost of the development program to put the property into a profitable and self-sustaining basis. As security for this advance, Tipuani was to obtain title to the adjoining (in fact, about 3,000 feet away) Elizabeth property and the various equipment located there.

By letter dated September 18th, 1973, Tipuani over the signature of E.D. Black, P. Eng., one of its directors and a signatory to the June prospectus, gave our Director a progress report to September 10th, 1973. This report was supported by an unsigned telex message disclosing work undertaken from July 1st to September 10th including the building of a camp, road, bridges, a power line, and the cleaning out, enlarging, shoring and extending the existing 24-foot shaft on the property to a depth of 36 feet. During the course of this deepening, two "pay streaks" were encountered between the 24 and 26-foot levels which resulted in the recovery of 7.04 ounces of gold. The target of the shaft was the old river bed along which, when reached, drifting would commence underground along the old river bed in order to seek out pockets of gold which it was hoped had settled in the areas of backwater and eddy of the old river in the typical fashion found in placer operations. It was estimated that the shaft would reach this target by November 1st.

As we were to learn through Exhibit BB, a telex from O.B. Stoughton dated February 6th, 1974, these hopes were not to be realized. A number of problems occurred including heavy rains with the result that they do not now expect to reach the 60-foot mark, which is the estimated ancient river bed, before mid-April.

On the basis of the information submitted through Mr. Black on October 11th, 1973, the Deputy Director-Filings, released 17,200 of the 760,000 escrowed vendor shares pro rata to those entitled. Apparently, the person entitled was Tully for a new preliminary prospectus was filed which in final form and dated October 19th, 1973, was accepted for filing on November 27th, 1973, and qualified for sale this additional 17,200 shares for sale by Herbert as agent for Tully. These shares were to be offered at the market prevailing from time to time. The prospectus contained the statement that the market price of Tipuani shares at the close of business on October 19th, 1973, was "Bid $5.50 per share and Asked $6.50 per share".

On December 19th, the Vice-Chairman received an envelope from a major Canadian investment dealer, who has an office in Hong Kong, enclosing copies of promotional material apparently sent out by Barnet Investments Limited ("Barnet") of Hong Kong published at various dates in or about November 1973. The literature followed a well established practice of purporting to analyze and comment upon a series of well known companies and including in the list an appreciation of a speculative issue, in this case Tipuani, with a recommendation to purchase. Barnet did this in what it calls the "Barnet Bulletin" in a column styled "The Canadian Scene". In its issue of November 17th, 1973, for instance, it speaks of International Nickel, Cominco, Dynasty Explorations, Siebens, Bow Valley Industries, Dome Petroleum, then moves to gold and Tipuani, and from there to real estate and real estate companies. Exhibits B-8 to B-15, provide examples of the Barnet material. Exhibit B-15 notes,

"WE FEEL THAT AT THESE DAYS PREVAILING
GOLD PRICES, TIPUANI GOLD MINES LIMITED
MAKES AN EXCELLENT BUY. PLEASE CALL
H-252267 (8 LINES) FOR MORE INFORMATION."

The underlining is ours. The capitalization was Barnet's. We subsequently learned through Mr. West's evidence that this material was being written in Toronto.

The Vice-Chairman passed the material to the Chief Legal Investigation Officer who caused enquiries to be made. Later the same day the Chief Legal Investigation Officer reported the results of the necessarily superficial enquiries with a recommendation that a temporary cease trading order be issued. According to trading information immediately available, the shares had traded from their maximum offering price of .95 cents in June at consistently higher prices through July, August, September, October, November and December to the point where recent trades as high as $7.00 had been reported. Having regard to the fact that this was a speculative security whose property was located in the somewhat remote albeit glamorous lands of the ancient Incas, that the total "float" or available supply of shares available for trading amounted only to 202,200 shares, that the only news was of the two "pay streaks" found in the course of the development work, importantly coupled with what had all the ear marks of what is styled a "touting" campaign emanating from Hong Kong, the Commission order an immediate stop to the trading in Tipuani until the situation could be clarified.

The following day, December 20th, a letter dated December 17th was received from Tipuani's solicitor, Mr. Mayzell, enclosing a copy of a progress report dated November 29th, 1973, put out under date of November 29th over the signature of M.W. Channing, reporting delays in the progress of the development work but referring to a seismograph survey said to have been carried out on the Tipuani property by a Dr. Rene Rodriguez in an attempt to determine the precise location of the old river channel. These letters, while not introduced as exhibits during the hearing, do form part of the Commission's file on Tipuani.

Nothing occurred during the course of the hearing to diminish the Commission's concern about the fact that Barnet found it appropriate to single out Tipuani in its market letters for special attention. There have been at least two occasions in recent years where Canadians have established organizations in Europe which have recommended the purchase by Europeans of speculative or junior issues in which those Canadians have been demonstrated to have had some interest. As a result of these activities, the shares have traded at what proved to be inflated prices in Europe to the subsequent anguish of their purchasers and to the detriment of the reputation of Canadian securities. On Mr. West's evidence, he sold his interest in Barnet to a former associate of Irving Kott, a promoter whose activities have been the subject of much public concern in the Province of Quebec over the last year. The purchaser had been associated with an advisory service in which Mr. Kott was said to have had some interest in Europe, according to Mr. West's evidence. No consideration has flowed from this man to Mr. West to the date of the evidence, Mr. West testified, but the consideration was payable on demand under the agreement and no demand has been made. (Exhibit Y.)

Turning back to the chronology, the Commission's staff attempted to examine Herbert's records as a starting point in determining who had purchased Tipuani's securities and what caused the shares to trade at increasingly higher prices. They encountered some difficulty. As a result, the Commission found it necessary on December 31st, 1973, to issue an order pursuant to subsection 2 of section 21 of The Securities Act directing an investigation into any matter relating to trading in the securities of Tipuani Gold Mines Limited by or on behalf of Herbert & Co. Securities Limited, Tully Investments Ltd. and any other person or company. It transpired that these enquiries lead to four continents: Europe, Asia, South as well as North America. Section 144(2) requires that a hearing be convened within fifteen days of the issuance of a temporary order. Notice of hearing dated December 20th, 1973, Exhibit A, had been sent to Tipuani, Herbert and Tully.

At the commencement of the present hearing and subsequently, we were urged to reach a decision notwithstanding the fact that it must be apparent that such an investigation could not be completed, let alone reported, in a few weeks. We have acceded to the request to proceed with the hearing in the hope that the facts disclosed through the hearing that bear on the merits or otherwise of the Tipuani property and the reasons for the prices at which the stock has traded might be made available for the information and benefit, not only of existing shareholders, but of potential purchasers.

Since there were only three purchasers called to give evidence, it is apparent that no absolute conclusions can be based on their evidence. The use and the potential for abuse of the fact that the prices of actual trades are reported on a daily basis in The Globe and Mail is clearly demonstrated by the evidence of each of them. Each was conscious of the prices published and with each the published price was a factor in inducing their purchases. Those charged with the investigation will, no doubt, as to each reported purchase by persons who can fairly be described as members of the public, as the three witnesses can, examine with some care the published trades to determine the nature of the market. However, as it was necessary to remind counsel for Tipuani, Herbert and Tully on several occasions, our present purpose is to attempt to determine whether the facts have been sufficiently displayed to public view to enable the members of the public to make a reasonably informed decision.

Mr. West described the circumstances which led to his obtaining an interest in Barnet. Our staff obtained information that Barnet was incorporated in Hong Kong on April 27th, 1973, (Exhibit B-4) and that its shareholders were Carl Turner, Tully and a Chinese financial consultant, Gary Ting. (Exhibit B-5). In a letter dated September 10th, 1973, Carl Jack Turner advised the Commission that he had resigned that day from Herbert. (Exhibit B-6). Mr. West explained that Mr. Turner had gone to Hong Kong in April, 1973. Through a firm of Montreal solicitors, Mr. West sought a Hong Kong charter, based upon information from Turner that Hong Kong afforded interesting opportunities. Turner and he each owned a 50% interest in Barnet. By the agreement of November 2nd, 1973, West sold his interest to Allen Simon, a man formerly associated with Capital Consultants of Amsterdam, a firm Mr. West believed was considered associated with or influenced by Irving Kott. Simon became the Hong Kong office manager of Barnet.

On June 7th, 1973, Mr. Turner advised us that he had ceased employment with his previous employer, Asta Securities Corporation Ltd., on January 5th, 1973, when that broker-dealer's registration was suspended by the Commission. He advised that he was going to be employed by Herbert and subsequently, by letter dated June 7th, Herbert requested the transfer of Mr. Turner's registration to that firm. Asta also had an European operation although there is no suggestion that Mr. Turner was any part of it. The nature and extent of Mr. Turner's activities as a salesman for Herbert were not explored nor did we explore the reasons for Mr. West's choice of this Hong Kong partner.

During the course of reviewing the trading, a number of transactions in the name of another Hong Kong company, Crecy Investments Limited ("Crecy"), were noted. Mr. West testified that this was a subsidiary or an associate of Barnet whose charter was acquired at the same time as Barnet's. The ownership of Barnet and Crecy are identical.

Turning next to the details of the trading available to us, no evidence was presented as to the public distribution of the underwritten stock, excepting the evidence of one witness, called by Herbert, who having purchased another Herbert-sponsored issue was advised to buy Tipuani at the offering price. He followed it in the papers, saw that it had traded at $3.00 as opposed to the .95 cents offering price, contacted his salesman and was advised that the salesman felt the stock would be going still higher. At this point of time, he intended to purchase 1,000 shares but then seeing in the paper that the stock had traded at a somewhat higher price he telephoned the salesman and purchased 1,500 shares at $3.75. He still holds the shares.

Two other purchasers were called by Mr. Boast, both of whom had purchased subsequent to the distribution to the public. One, a lady, was advised to purchase Tipuani at a price slightly below that at which it had traded with the representation that it would probably double in price. She purchased 100 shares at $3.50. Subsequently, on December 13th, she received a call from the same salesman suggesting that she sell the stock at $4.50 per share and use the proceeds to purchase another issue which would be coming out shortly, Satinco Mines Limited. She, having followed the prices in the paper, asked why she should not get $5.50, a recent price at which the stock had traded, and was given the explanation that there was a large block overhanging the market. She sold at $4.50, this being one of the sales which made up a total of 15,000 shares which Herbert bought for the account of Crecy on that day at $4.50.

The second purchaser, a law student, called by Mr. Boast had previously dealt with Herbert. In July, 1973, he telephoned Herbert and spoke to his salesman. He had received Herbert's news-letters. The salesman told him of Tipuani and the prices at which it was then trading with the result that he purchased shares in early August at $3.75. He followed the prices in the paper and when it reached the $5.00 - $6.00 level, commenced to call the salesman, asking whether he should buy or sell. When it traded at $7.00, he was advised not to sell. By December 13th, the stock had dropped back and he phoned the salesman, Mr. West's nephew Martin, asked to sell at $5.50 and was advised that since he only had 75 shares which was an "odd lot" he could not get that price. However, there was an order in for a large block at $4.50 and he could get that price. He accepted the $4.50 offer.

While this is a very limited sampling, it is interesting to note that in each case the prices shown in the newspaper were all used as a guide by the individual in making his decision to purchase or to sell.

In fact, the available supply of shares was far less than the 202,200 shares previously mentioned. As is evidenced by Exhibits H to S inclusive, Herbert delivered certificates representing 110,000 shares, including the 85,000 shares being offered by Tully, for ultimate delivery to European purchasers identified as acting through Slavenburg's Bank N.V., Amsterdam. As at December 31st, 79,500 of these shares were still held in safekeeping in Toronto. (Exhibit S.) No attempt was made to do a detailed analysis of the impact of the trading by Herbert for its own account or associated accounts such as Barnet and Crecy. This will, no doubt, be done during the course of the investigation. However, special attention was given to the 15,000 shares purchased for the account of Crecy by Herbert from its clients on December 13th (pages 153 to 164, Exhibit H). This is disclosed in the trading summary, Exhibit G.

Exhibit G is a convenient presentation of the trading print outs, Exhibit F, which purport to record all of the secondary trading in Tipuani as reported by the dealers. Taking both sides of the transactions, as reported - the purchases and sales both as agent and as principal, we find a total of 76,125 shares, broken down into 40,700 shares sold and 35,425 shares purchased. Given more time, this arithmetic and, no doubt, human error could be corrected. It would be fair to conclude that the number of shares which changed hands was less than 45,000. Having regard to the numbers of transactions which finds Herbert, through its house trading account, Tully, Barnet and Crecy on one side or another, and occasionally both (Exhibit H - pages 124, 131, 138, 144, 146), one may wonder about the "market". The fact that it was deemed expedient for Herbert to establish the Barnet operation in Hong Kong does nothing to lessen the concern. Mr. West's testimony that he mentioned the Barnet operation to a number of members of the Commission staff does not assist us.

A series of letters were filed and marked collectively as Exhibit Z, in which notice was given that Herbert intended to participate in a Belgian corporation under the name of Herbert & Co.

Securities S.V. through which it was sought to obtain the active or tacit approval of the Commission. Some criticism was implied of the fact that the Chief Legal Investigation Officer, Mr. Ross, has not yet satisfied himself concerning the proposed operation and its participants. Under all the circumstances, and having regard to the interesting facts already developed through this public hearing, Mr. Ross has every reason to be cautious before recommending a reply to the Commission. Since we were requested to afford some guidance by Mr. Lenczner, it might be appropriate to observe that having regard to the nature of the business of all individuals presently registered or controlling corporations registered exclusively as broker-dealers in Ontario, as underwriters, distributors, sponsors, and promoters of speculative and junior ventures, we have some concern when they sponsor or participate in allied dealer or adviser activity outside the direct supervision of a regulatory agency in Canada or the United States. This is based on past experience. We do not have the same concern generally speaking for firms who are members of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada or The Toronto Stock Exchange. This is not to suggest that many members of the Broker Dealers Association of Ontario do not perform a most useful function in Ontario in providing financing for junior mining and industrial issues.

In conclusion, nothing has happened at the Tipuani property which would account for trading in the shares at prices ranging as high as $7.00. For those willing to examine the facts, it still remains, as it has been described, a good prospecting bet. If the hopes and aspirations ascribed to it are borne out, it may prove to be a modestly profitable operation capable of sustaining itself from the gold obtained. But, as our consultant, Dr. N. Beaton testified this is still a very "iffy" question. The bed rock of the old river has not yet been found. Indeed the original engineer's report, suggests that the old river bed may stray off the San Antonio property. Adverting back to the conclusions of Mr. Kent, previously quoted, this property has not yet been properly explored and assessed in the North American sense of the term. The optimistic appraisal of the prospects was made by Gaensel, the vendor of this property and the Elizabeth property lying over half a mile from the San Antonio property.

While local labour is apparently cheap, the logistics of the operation are painted in rather broad brush and optimistic terms. It is apparent that there are great difficulties in bringing supplies in to the property. Mr. Kent's report is quite candid.

While we are grateful for the assistance rendered to us by Mr. Keith Winkworth, who was retained by Tipuani to offer an opinion concerning the potential of the Tipuani property and who used Mr. Kent's report, Exhibit W, largely as the basis for his opinion and to Ernest D. Black, P. Eng., a Tipuani director whose name was mentioned earlier as the author of the September, 1973, progress report, Exhibit GG, it is difficult to understand how these experts find themselves in a position to offer hypotheses based upon assumptions which are themselves not founded in fact. Neither, of course, had been on the property. In the past, since Ontario is a primary resources province, it has not been unknown for a mine to be forecast on a property where there has only been a "pay streak" of the target mineral. It is for just this reason that the provincial securities administrators have adopted as their guide, the Guide for Mining Engineers of the Professional Engineers of Ontario and similar bodies in other provinces. This is found as National Policy 2 as well as, in part, in the regulations of The Securities Act. The provincial administrators have also adopted as National Policy No. 22, an Ontario policy dating back some fifteen years entitled, "Use of Information and Opinion re Mining and Oil Properties by Registrants and Others". Opinions concerning ore and value must be founded on fact. If Mr. Kent had found it possible to give the estimates offered by Mr. Winkworth, remembering Mr. Kent had been on the property, one may assume that he would have. Mr. Black's evidence was perhaps weakened by the fact that although he signed the June and October prospectuses as a director, certifying as to their truth, he swore that he was unaware of the Gaensel contract set out in the prospectus. He testified that he received all of the progress reports from the San Antonio property and had had discussions with Gaensel. Gaensel is moved by some self interest through his participation in the adjoining Bolivian Gold Mines Limited property (the Elizabeth property) to which, according to the prospectus on public file with the Commission, Gaensel sold the machinery and equipment (previously pledged to Tipuani against the $42,000 advance he had received according to the October Tipuani prospectus). Certainly Mr. Gaensel's objectivity might be open to some question.

So the picture emerges of this romantic but remote property, relatively few shares, a block of these shares going to a European bank for unidentified clients, Mr. West's participation in partnership with an experienced telephone salesman in Barnet and the acquisition of Crecy, the Herbert, Tully, Barnet and Crecy trading, the preparation of the Barnet news-letters in Toronto recommending the purchase of Tipuani, with a block of shares still safely lodged in Toronto for the "European" interests, the acquisition of the block of shares for the Crecy account, the failure to move forward during the summer and meet the development target dates, with much of the activity seemingly on the Elizabeth property ultimately to be for the joint benefit of both developments. So far as the trading is concerned, the facts developed to date perhaps raise more questions than they answer. It is fair to conclude on the evidence that a bona fide two way public market for these securities has not yet developed but any public interest has resulted from the interest created by Herbert through its news-letters, by Tipuani through its September progress report, and by the trading generated at least in part by the publication of earlier trades in the daily papers. In the end result, Tipuani might reach the old river channel, might drift along it and find the high values of gold found in other areas, overcome the problems of transportation, geography and weather to provide for a modestly profitable and self-sustaining venture. But first it must find the old river bed.

There were a number of important principles raised during this hearing. We have attempted to deal with them with some care. While the length of these reasons may in some measure tend to defeat our objective, it is important that the reasons be released not only to the parties but to other interested parties in those parts of the world in which an interest in these securities has been created. For this reason, it is our view that at least one clear week should elapse between the release of these reasons and the resumption of trading.

This was a hearing pursuant to subsection 2 of section 144 of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 426, as amended, to decide whether a temporary cease trading order issued on January 9, 1974, with respect to trading in the securities of Farmex Enterprises Inc., (Farmex) should be made permanent. It was the contention of staff counsel that investments in the operations of Farmex involved the trading of investment contracts and therefore of a security as defined in s. 1(1) (xiii) of the Act and that the salesmen of Farmex have not been registered pursuant to s. 6 of the Act to trade in such securities in Ontario, nor have the securities themselves been qualified for distribution to the public in Ontario through the filing of a prospectus pursuant to s. 35. It was the contention of Farmex that such registration and qualification was not necessary as what was being sold by Farmex did not constitute an investment contract.

To decide whether or not what is being sold by Farmex is or is not an investment contract and therefore a security as defined, it is necessary to describe in some detail the operations of this particular enterprise. Farmex, in the words of its own sales literature, is involved in marketing "exotic" beef breeding programs. An investor participates in the program by purchasing, for $2,500, a half-blood heifer or a cow inseminated pure bred (in case of non-availability of half-blood heifers). The half-blood or inseminated pure-bred refers to the "exotic" breed which in this case is the Chianina. The purchase of the cow is accompanied, in effect, by the purchase of participation in a breeding program designed to produce a pure-bred Chianina cow. Because this breed is presently rare in North America, and because it is half again as big as traditional North American beef breeds such as Hereford and Angus, the hope is that when, and if, a pure blooded Chianina cow is produced, that it will bring a high price on the market or that it will be used for further breeding purposes in which case its offspring can be sold to produce profit. Starting with a half-blood heifer, a pure-blooded cow may possibly be produced by the third generation. The contract with Farmex, however, involves much more than the purchase and sale of a heifer. The contract reveals the following provisions:

1. Farmex undertake to maintain the animal or to make arrangements for its maintenance;
2. Farmex undertakes to breed the animal to a full-blooded sire in the hope that a full-blooded cow will be produced at the end of the period;
3. As part of running the breeding program Farmex further undertakes to provide adequate veterinary supervision; in the case of sterility, to replace the original animals with an animal of similar breed, to replace any sterile offspring with an animal of similar breed; and further guarantees the program's continuation in case of a stillborn animal at any point during the program;

4. Throughout the program, all offspring and all other by-products belong automatically to Farmex, with the exception that the purchaser has the right to exchange his parent animal for each female offspring born, so that the program may continue;
5. Farmex undertakes, when requested by the buyer to arrange for the sale of the purchaser's animal at any point during the program;
6. Farmex undertakes to send to the purchaser within 90 days of the purchase a copy of the Certificate of Recordation with respect to his animal from the Canadian National Livestock Records;
7. Farmex undertakes to provide and maintain throughout the program adequate insurance on the purchaser's animal against death and theft;
8. The agreement remains in force until the purchaser has been presented with a weaned full-blooded animal or for a period of 12 years, whichever occurs first.

Counsel for Farmex argued that the above agreement constitutes the outright sale of an animal to investors as evidenced by the Certificate of Recordation and that the remainder of the Purchase Agreement simply constitutes collateral contractual terms. He argued further that there was no investment in a common enterprise, and that the purchaser does not share in Farmex's profits. The purchaser owns his own animal throughout and is free at any time during the program to sell his animal. If his cow produces a female offspring he will naturally exchange the cow for that offspring so that the program might continue.

If a pure-blood is produced the purchaser will profit by sale or further breeding. If 12 years passes before a purebred is produced the purchaser will lose his investment although there might be some residual recovery in the value of the animal that remains his. Of course there is always the possibility that male and not female offspring will predominate thus making the 12 year limitation a real risk. Under the terms of the contract, male offspring belong as of right to Farmex and we were informed that the plan is to sell such male offspring to finance the continuation of the individual programs. In any case the purchaser's fortunes are dependent on the fate of his own property - the cow and the offspring for which it may be exchanged, in the breeding program. The profits and losses, it was argued, are the purchaser's alone and relate exclusively to his own property. Counsel likened the purchase of the cow to purchase of an antique or a work of art which would appreciate over the course of time. So it is with the breeding program - at the end it is hoped that a very valuable full-blooded Chianina cow will be produced.

At the conclusion of the hearing we gave oral judgment in which we made the temporary order permanent on the basis that what was being sold was an investment contract and was therefore a security within s. 1(1)(xiii) of the Act and indicated that we would give written reasons in due course.

Commission counsel relied on the principles laid down by the Supreme Court of the United States in S.E.C. v. W.J. Howey Company, 328 U.S. 293 (1946). That case also involved the sale of property coupled with a service contract and the remittance of net proceeds to the investors. In giving the term "investment contract" a broad meaning, the Court held that a contract, transaction or scheme whereby a person invests his money in a common enterprise and is led to expect profits solely from the efforts of the promoter or third party falls within the purview of The Securities Act of 1933. In giving a broad interpretation to the term "investment contract" the Court emphasized that the intent of securities legislation was to afford the investing public a full measure of protection. When the question is what constitutes a security, emphasis would be placed upon economic reality and form would be disregarded for substance in order that the investing public would receive full and fair disclosure relative to the issuance of "the many types of instruments in our commercial world that fall within the ordinary concepts of a security". This approach to securities legislation was adopted as recently as 1971 by the Alberta Court of Appeal in A.G. Alberta v. Great Way Merchandising (1971) 3 W.W.R. 133, and by the British Columbia Court of Appeal in Bestline Products of Canada Ltd. (1972) 6 W.W.R. 245. It is the approach that we also think is proper in interpreting the Ontario Securities Act.

We are of the opinion that the economic reality in this case is clearly an investment by unsophisticated investors in a breeding program in the hope that through the efforts, the expertise and the management of others, a profit will be realized. This is of the essence of an investment contract which brings it within the definition of a security in the Act. It is not enough to say, as counsel for Farmex argued, that the investor receives title to his animal and may claim it at any time, or may require Farmex to sell it. While this may be so legally, it is simply not a realistic alternative. The whole purpose of the program is not to claim one's animal or have it sold, but is to continue the breeding program in the hope that prior to the end of 12 years a full-blooded animal will be produced. As to the veterinary care that one's animal gets, as to the breeding program, as to the continuance of the program, as to the entire management of the enterprise, the terms of the contract make it clear that the investor is entirely in the hands of Farmex. Indeed, Farmex's sales literature, which was filed as an exhibit, contains a one line summary as to why what is being sold is an investment contract. One of the questions asked in the sales literature is "Why shouldn't I simply buy the animal and not the program?" The answer supplied is "You could, but you would need a lot of expertise and more money".

This surely is the essence of the matter. A passive investor invests in a joint enterprise with additional funds being supplied by many other passive investors and depends upon the expertise, management and good faith of others to return a profit. In such cases, the full, true and plain disclosure that is required by the Act is necessary for the protection of the investing public. That this is clearly so can be seen from the operation of the enterprise. For instance, Farmex does not own its own farms where it keeps the animals but has entered into a boarding arrangement with another Quebec company that owns farms. If Farmex cannot meet the terms of the contract the other company is given rights over the livestock consigned to its care. The continual financing of the program comes, obviously, from further sales under the program and from the sales of the investor's own cow when he exchanges his cow for a female offspring, if indeed, he ever has one. The evidence was that the present day cost of a heifer is between $600 and $750. The cost of investment in the program is $2,500. Clearly, this money is used to pay for all the other services that Farmex provides. We were told that this money is put in trust pursuant to a trust agreement entered into by Farmex. The terms of the contract between Farmex and the purchaser, however, do not require such a trust agreement, and the trust agreement that was produced before the Commission indicated that the trustee was a solicitor in Montreal. We point out these facts merely to indicate a few of the risks attendant upon this kind of enterprise and the type of full, plain and true disclosure that an investor is entitled to have pursuant to the qualification of a prospectus under s. 35 of the Act. Moreover, an investor would be given the protection of the considerations that the Deputy Director-Filings must apply pursuant to s. 61(1) of the Act before a receipt for a prospectus issues. The Deputy Director may also impose requirements upon the issuer for the protection of the investor pursuant to the discretion vested in him in the opening words of s. 61(1) before the security may be sold. The Commission's decision in Shoppers Investments Ltd., OSC Bulletin, September, 1972, is an example of the exercise of this discretion.

In conclusion, we are of the opinion that what is being sold here is an investment contract, within s. 1(1)(xiii) of the Act, and is a clear case where the safeguards provided by the Securities Act are required for the protection of the investing public.

This application was framed in terms of an application under section 132(1)(c)(iii) of The Securities Act and under section 185(2) of The Business Corporations Act, for an order excusing Polypump Limited for its failure to send to each shareholder and file with the Commission comparative figures for prior fiscal periods in Polypump Limited financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31st, 1973, and the six-month period ended September 30th, 1973. The application resulted from enquiries by the Commission staff as to why the company had failed to meet these requirements.

Although the Commission concluded that, since this is an Ontario corporation, it had no power to consider the application under section 132 of The Securities Act and, further, that the Business Corporations Act did not give the Commission power to grant the exemption sought, it would be useful to consider whether action should be taken to require the company to furnish the information required by The Business Corporations Act.

It was clear that the company failed to furnish this information for the 1973 periods upon the advice of its solicitor and auditor. With respect, in light of the explicit requirement of the legislation, this was not an alternative that was open to them. Neither is it helpful to raise the question in order to obtain ex post facto absolution after the failure to comply with the legislation is brought to the attention of the company. As we have stated in the past, such applications should be made in anticipation of need.

It was apparent from the representations made to us both by counsel and the auditor that the omission was based upon an interpretation of the word "meaningful" found in Research Recommendations of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants under the heading "General Standards of Financial Presentation" in section 1500.09.

The applicant presented financial statements for the financial year ended March 31st, 1973, and for its six-month interim period ended September 30th, 1973, without including the comparative figures for the preceding periods as is required by The Business Corporations Act. Its reason was that the comparative figures would not have been "meaningful" in that the company had discontinued its manufacturing business prior to March 31st, 1973, and was now carrying on business by selling through franchisees or licensees. The fact that this change in its business was occurring had been well publicized through the information supplied before and through the shareholders' meetings held on November 13th, 1972, and March 28th, 1973.

After considering the representations made, the Commission concluded that even though the nature of the operations had changed it would have been desirable for the shareholders, and in the public interest, to have presented comparative figures with appropriate explanatory notes as to the changes in operations, assets, and other matters which had taken place. The Commission is of the view that there can only be very few and extraordinary situations in which it would not be meaningful to present comparative figures with or without explanatory notes.

In view of the time which has elapsed and the approaching financial year end of March 31st, 1974, the Commission will not seek a compliance order requiring the presentation of revised statements on a comparative basis as at March 31st, 1973, and September 30th, 1973. It will expect such figures to appear in all subsequent financial statements.

CHEMALLOY MINERALS LIMITED

Hearing: February 25, 1974

Enver Hassim - Counsel to Chemalloy
Minerals Limited

K.E. Boast - Staff Counsel

This was a hearing under Section 19(6) to determine whether the exemptions contained in Sections 19(1) (3) and 19(3) should, with respect to trades in the securities of Chemalloy Minerals Limited ("Chemalloy"), be denied to Chemalloy. The staff position was that the reports required to be filed pursuant to Section 11 of the Regulations under The Securities Act ("Act") had not been made in proper form and that repeated requests to Chemalloy for amendments failed to produce such compliance. The facts were as follows:

In February, 1973, Chemalloy arranged a placement of $5,000,000 worth of 8% convertible debentures with Handelskredit-Bank AG ("Handelskredit") which carries on business in Zurich, Switzerland. By letter of February 27, 1973, solicitors on behalf of Chemalloy filed a private placement reporting form, Form 11 of the Regulations, signed on behalf of the vendor Chemalloy on February 19, 1973, and containing the "certificate of purchaser" under signature of Handelskredit dated February 13, 1973, which certificate certified that the statements made as to the details of purchase in the report were "true and that the purchase was made" by Handelskredit "as principal for investment only". Attached to the February 27th transmittal letter was a letter signed by Handelskredit directed to the Toronto Stock Exchange and the Canadian Stock Exchange dated February 15, 1973, in which Handelskredit referred to the purchase of the debentures "which we have subscribed for and on behalf of accounts which we have under management at this Bank".

Subsequent to the filing of this form, the staff of the Commission notified Chemalloy that on the basis of the February 15th letter it was apparent that Handelskredit was not purchasing as principal but rather as agent on behalf of undisclosed principals and that Form 11 required the principals to be disclosed as the purchaser or purchasers of the securities exempted. The staff referred to Jowitt's Dictionary of English Law (page 184) with respect to the authority of an agent:

"With reference to its extent an authority may be general, to act in all the principal's affairs, or special, concerning some particular object, (e.g. to buy a particular piece of land), it may be limited by certain instructions as to the conduct he is to pursue, or unlimited, i.e., leaving his conduct to his discretion".

The response of Chemalloy after a series of communications with Handelskredit was that the legal advisers to Handelskredit viewed Handelskredit as acting as principal in the transaction, under Swiss law and, furthermore, that Handelskredit was precluded from disclosing names of the persons for whose accounts the securities in question had been purchased, under Swiss law. Chemalloy took the position therefore that it was unable to secure compliance by the purchaser with the Form 11 requirements.

At the hearing Mr. Chorney for the staff of the Commission took the position that the Form 11 certificate was erroneous when filed as of February 27th to the knowledge of the solicitor for Chemalloy. He submitted that the February 15th letter to the Toronto and Canadian Stock Exchanges contradicted the certification of purchaser on the form. He further submitted that even before the filing of the form, it was incumbent upon Chemalloy to make more searching enquiries as to who the purchaser of the securities was, particularly in view of the fact that there had been an earlier placement with or through Handelskredit by Chemalloy in 1971.

Mr. Chorney's position was that both the section 19(1)(3) and 19(3) exemptions should be denied for three reasons. First, both of these exemptions are comprehended by the Form 11 requirements established in Section 11 of the Regulations. Therefore failure to complete the Form 11 requirements in a satisfactory manner with respect to one of the exemptions justified the denial of the other as well. Second, the removal of the 19(3) private placement exemption alone would not be sufficient to correct the abuse or oversight demonstrated on the facts. Third, referring to the Commission's decision in Mercantile Bank and Trust Co. Ltd., Freeport, The Bahamas (1973 O.S.C.B. 173) he submitted that there were strong policy reasons for a comprehensive order under Section 19(6) where a financial institution had shown itself unwilling to confirm or comply with Ontario law. The protection of Ontario investors required that a sanction be applied which would deter any issuer from being less than careful in its observance of Ontario law.

Mr. Hassim conceded that Ontario and not Swiss law governed the placement and the securities regulation requirements attending it. He contended, however, that an issuer of securities through the private placement exemption could not look beyond or behind its purchaser to see who the real parties in interest might be. He submitted that the error in the February 27th filing with the contradictory documents was the result of innocent oversight on the part of Chemalloy.

We believe that there is an important principle involved in this matter. The purpose of disclosure in the Form 11 which is filed by the vendor on the initial placement which contains the purchaser's certificate of investment intent and the Form 12 which is to be filed by the purchaser on a subsequent resale, would be frustrated if agents or nominees were permitted to certify as purchasers on these forms. First, it would be difficult, if not impossible, for the investment intent undertaking to apply to or bind the person who in fact makes the investment decisions. Second, it would make it more difficult for the public to be assured that insiders or others closely connected with an issuer were disclosing their trades through other provisions in The Securities Act and not concealing them through a nominee. It is important that the vendor of securities, who wished to enjoy these exempting privileges, is scrupulous and responsible in ensuring that the intent and purpose of the Act are met.

On the facts here, it is apparent first that the February 27th filing was not made with the care one expects to see, when there was a patent contradiction in two of the documents there enclosed. Second, we do not believe that the vendor has shown the degree of responsibility in determining who its real purchaser is and satisfying itself as to the bona fides of the purchaser's certificate of investment intent. We do not accept the submission of the company's counsel that it should not be expected to make any enquiries as to its purchaser and that purchaser's status. Accordingly, we have concluded that the section 19(3) exemption should be denied to Chemalloy.

We also wish to make it clear that a purchaser who takes under sections 19(1)3 or 19(3) of the Act is not purchasing as principal when he is purchasing for discretionary accounts, regardless of the scope of the discretion granted. A purchaser may not certify that he is purchasing as principal in such cases. If he does so, he risks losing the privilege of using the appropriate exemptions or of facing prosecution for violation of the Act.

We have concluded, however, that it would not be in the public interest on these facts to deny the section 19(1)(3) exemption as well. The error that was disclosed on the limited facts before us appears to be one largely of inadvertence rather than conscious disregard for the requirements of the Act and Regulations. Secondly, the denial of the section 19(1)(3) exemption could result in considerable damage to the company and its shareholders, for example, by excluding the company from entering into ordinary banking transactions. We conclude that the important matter of principle raised on these facts will be adequately reinforced and underlined by the more limited denial of the section 19(3) exemption the Chemalloy.

This was an appeal by way of hearing and review pursuant to section 28 of The Securities Act, R.S.O. C. 426, from a decision of the Deputy Director-Filings, acting under an assignment from the Commission, dated November 21st, 1973, refusing to grant a release from escrow to all shareholders now a party to an escrow agreement, required by the Provinces of Alberta, Quebec and Ontario, as a condition of their accepting a prospectus dated September 17th, 1968, for filing on or shortly after that date. While the formal agreement was not filed during these proceedings, the shares were to be held by the National Trust Company subject to release upon the prior written consent of the Alberta, Ontario and Quebec Securities Commission. We learned that there had been partial releases of 20% of the shares escrowed on July 12th, 1971, and April 12th, 1973. On November 14th, 1973, the Director of the Alberta Securities Commission agreed to release a further 20% while Quebec, like our Deputy Director-Filings in their letter of November 20th, 1973, felt that the applicants should wait until another year's results were available, after May 31st, 1974, before considering the matter further.

Unlike the kind of escrow usually imposed when a mining exploration company purchases unproven property and concerning which we have developed clear policy guide lines, the circumstances requiring or suggesting escrow varies considerably in the case of an industrial company. In the mining company situation, the vendor receives upwards of 25% of the authorized capital for mining claims whose value is highly speculative. The considerations in an industrial company are different and varied. The insider or promotional group may have advanced money, ideas and services, or any combination of them for their shares. The nominal price of the shares may be substantially below the price at which newly issued shares are to be offered to the public. The escrow is designed to ensure that the inside group do not sell their shares for their personal advantage, thus preventing the company from receiving adequate financing. To the extent the shares are not the subject of the prospectus, the escrow removes any temptation to be more optimistic about the possibilities of the issuer than one might be otherwise. Where assets have been vended to the company for shares, the position becomes more akin to that of the mining claims and experience is necessary as demonstrated by the progress of the company that these shares have achieved the value originally attributed to them and therefore, should be available for sale through their release from escrow. Escrow also ensures some continuing interest by their owners in the success of the company. Unfortunately, we were unable to determine from the evidence placed before us what considerations lay behind the imposition of the original escrow.

So far as disclosure is concerned, we had before us the annual reports of the company for the years ended 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, and 1973. In addition, we had the company's press release of September 25th, 1973, which gave the first quarter result for the three months ended August 31st, 1973, and which, when coupled with the 1973 Annual Report, formed the basis for the present application on October 25th, 1973. We were advised that the circumstances which resulted in the escrow are not ascertainable through an examination of the material on the file which resulted in the acceptance of the 1968 prospectus and since reasons were not given in the earlier decisions releasing and the last decision refusing to release, we have tested the present situation against the propositions set out above.

The company has been in business for more than five years with a reasonably steady volume of sales. There is no reason to believe that it will not continue to operate in the foreseeable future. The original executives are still active in the management of the company. They have declared an intention of remaining active in its affairs. So far as they may be considered part of the control group, they are subject to other requirements. The company has fully lived up to its obligations so far as continuing investor disclosure is concerned. Its securities have been listed and posted for trading on The Toronto Stock Exchange since November, 1968.

Turning to the price at which the shares are trading, the escrow might have been felt necessary at the outset to prevent the directors and senior officers from selling what might have then been viewed as shares acquired for substantially less than the $8.00 public offering price before an earnings record and a history of operation had been established. The shares, now trading at about $1.20, have been appraised by the market place. On the undertakings given orally to us by counsel to the appellant-applicants, there is no question of the dumping of over-valued shares upon the unsuspecting public when they are released.

In short, we were unable to determine what the objections to the release were at the present time and for whose benefit the escrow was being continued. Accordingly, we allow the appeal and consent to the release of all of the outstanding shares by the escrow agent, being mindful of the fact that the consent of our sister Commissions in Quebec and Alberta, will be necessary as well. Their reasons for the refusal in one case and the partial release in the other might have assisted us in a better understanding of the problem seemingly apprehended by both Mr. Brown and the other Commissions.

We were urged by counsel to the appellants, through these reasons, to attempt to indicate some policy for escrows imposed on other than mining companies. For the reasons stated above, it is not possible to do this. We do suggest that when an escrow is imposed in such a case, its purpose should be clearly set out by the Director or his Deputy for the subsequent guidance of the Commission or the person acting for them in considering the release. In addition, where a decision is rendered refusing an application or varying it, it would be helpful to the panel when a hearing and review is taken from that decision if reasons could be prepared for the benefit of both the appellant and the Commission.

NATIONAL POLICY 27 - RECOMMENDATIONS OF CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS - 3470 .13 - TAX ALLOCATION ACCOUNTING PRACTICES

In the light of the recommendations of the Ad Hoc Committee of Chartered Accountancy Firms serving the petroleum industry, the Canadian Provincial Securities Administrators have concluded notwithstanding the able presentation made by the representatives of the petroleum industry, that the recommendations of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants regarding the accounting principles required to be followed by the petroleum companies whose securities are publicly traded in Canada ought to be followed. While having the greatest sympathy for the long standing practices followed by a substantial majority of petroleum companies who are members of either the Canadian Petroleum Association or the Independent Petroleum Association of Canada, we find ourselves unable to agree with their submission that as an industry they are unique and accordingly should be permitted to continue to make a special kind of financial disclosure. Their position has been explored by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants and has been sympathetically reviewed by the Ad Hoc Committee of Chartered Accountants. If the views of the industry, as presented to us, were acceded to their financial presentation would continue to defy comparison with the results in other extractive industries. Accordingly, the Canadian Provincial Securities Administrators will require that the yearly and half yearly financial statements which have to be filed with them for periods ending March 31st, 1974 or following, must be in accordance with the recommendations of paragraph 3470 .13 of the CICA Handbook.

If the members of the petroleum industry continue to believe that this required financial presentation is either inappropriate or misleading, the administrators recommend that they again make representations to the CICA requesting a further review of the methods of financial presentation applicable to the petroleum industry.

Agreed to by Securities Administrators

March 28th, 1974

- (7) For the purpose of compliance with the "know your client" rules made by the Commission pursuant to the regulations under The Securities Act and attached as conditions to their registrations, the members of the underwriting group will not be required to make any special enquiry concerning the suitability of the purchase of the securities of the Canada Development Corporation for a particular purchaser apart from ensuring that each prospective purchaser and purchaser receive a copy of the preliminary prospectus, the prospectus, and any amendments to either of them, as the case may be in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

- (8) To meet their obligations to deliver the prospectus or amended prospectus imposed by section 64 of The Securities Act, the underwriting group may arrange to have the agent Chartered Banks deliver a copy of the prospectus or amended prospectus to the purchaser on their behalf but the responsibility for the delivery of the prospectus shall remain with the members of the underwriting group.
- (9) Arrangements concerning the transmittal and acknowledgements of expressions of interest, orders to purchase, purchase money, the delivery of the confirmation of the transaction required to be made to the actual purchaser by the members of the underwriting group in compliance with section 67, and the delivery of the securities of the Canada Development Corporation purchases may be made at the discretion of the underwriting group and the Chartered Banks either through the appropriate agent Chartered Bank or from the underwriting group, provided that in the case of purchase orders placed through the Chartered Banks the confirmation must be sent or delivered to the customer placing the order through the Chartered Bank with the ultimate responsibility for compliance with section 67 resting with the underwriting group.

- (10) This Order shall remain in force until the Commission is notified by the underwriting group in accordance with section 54(2) of the Act that the members of the underwriting group have ceased to engage in the distribution to the public of the securities through the prospectus relating to the securities of the Canada Development Corporation contemplated by this Order.

DATED at Toronto, this 4th day of April, A.D. 1974.

By the Commission

CANADA DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

THE COMMISSION MADE AN ORDER UNDER SECTION 20 IN RESPECT TO CANADA DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION AND GIVE HEREUNDER THEIR REASONS FOR SO DOING

The Commission has been informed by the Canada Development Corporation (CDC) of its intention to file a preliminary prospectus on or before April 30th, 1974, in accordance with the requirements of section 35 of The Securities Act (the "Act") with a view to obtaining the expressions of interest from prospective purchasers permitted by section 36(2)(c). It will then proceed to file a prospectus which, if accepted, will permit the distribution of a substantial quantity of CDC's securities to members of the public throughout Ontario. It is further CDC's intention to make similar filings in each of the provinces and territories throughout Canada. The principal distinction between this and other issuers is that, because the corporation is sponsored by the Government of Canada for the purposes declared in the incorporating statute, the announced objective of this initial public distribution is to obtain the widest dissemination of CDC's securities among the eligible residents of Canada. To achieve this objective, CDC feels that the securities should be offered not only through the investment community, the registered investment dealers and brokers supervised by securities administrators in the provinces and territories ("securities administrators") but that this community should seek the assistance of the network of offices of the Canadian chartered banks to which the Bank Act (Canada) applied (the "banks").

In the past, this large distribution system, the banks, investment dealers and brokers, has only been utilized to sell such government guaranteed securities as Canada Savings Bonds. CDC, while government sponsored, has and expects to get no government guarantees. Indeed, we anticipate from the representations made to us that the face page of the CDC prospectus will clearly describe the nature of CDC's securities as "speculative". This proposed method of distribution gives rise to numbers of concerns. The potential problems raised if the banks were to solicit directly the purchase of securities by their banking customers by persons, who while having many admirable qualities, are not qualified as securities salesmen or brokers, was not a prospect that securities administrators were prepared to accept without expressing their concern.

The role and responsibilities of the dealer community and their salesmen are clearly delineated in Ontario and elsewhere in Canada through the legislation and regulations including conditions of registration which the securities authorities administer. The salesmen must demonstrate a minimum standard of competence by passing the Canadian Securities Course. They are supervised by executives who must have broad experience in the securities field and who, in many cases, have passed more advanced courses. The legislation and policies require declarations of interest. The "know your client" rules are aimed at ensuring that thought should be given to the needs of the prospective purchaser and the suitability of the particular issue to those needs. There are numbers of additional requirements.

The banks do not hold themselves out as brokers, investment dealers or investment advisers. Indeed, there is no evidence they seek this role. In an ancillary and incidental way, they have provided some of these services at the request of individual banking customers. Excepting for the kinds of government guaranteed securities mentioned previously, the banks have not actively solicited either the investment business of their customers or actively recommended the purchase or sale of particular securities excepting for deposit instruments and their own securities. We are advised that there has been some participation by individual banks as underwriters but this relatively minor activity has not come to the Commission's attention possibly because of the prohibition in the Bank Act preventing the name of a bank appearing in a prospectus. It is CDC and its advisers who have asked the banks to act as order takers so as to effect the widest possible distribution.

The managing underwriting group (the "group") we are informed will consist of four registered investment dealers. These are Levesque, Beaubien Inc., McLeod, Young Weir & Company Limited, Richardson Securities of Canada, and Wood Gundy Limited, all of whom are registered under the Act. The Commission has received written assurances from the group concerning the method it is proposed to adopt, subject to its approval by each securities administrator, in the distribution of CDC. These assurances are embodied in the terms and conditions of our order. We are advised that both the group and the banks wish clear direction as to a method of distribution which would, on the one hand, permit the widest distribution in Ontario of the proposed issue, and, on the other hand, would avoid the concerns indicated above. We view it as being in the public interest to offer our comments and confirm our conclusions by an order under section 20 of the Act.

Based upon these assurances, we are satisfied that it would not be prejudicial to the public interest to permit the banks to accept expressions of interest in and orders to purchase the securities of CDC. It is therefore ordered that the provisions of section 6 of the Act should not apply to any trades made by a bank, firstly in accepting expressions of interest following the filing of a preliminary prospectus by CDC on or before April 30th, 1974, and the acceptance and transmittal of orders to purchase by the banks as agents of the registered dealer group following the issuance of a receipt for the CDC prospectus in accordance with the requirements of section 35 and following of the Act, subject to the following terms and conditions:

- (1) The banks will act as agents for the group in accepting expressions of interest and purchase orders and, for these purposes, may deliver preliminary prospectuses and prospectuses on behalf of the group.

- (2) The banks shall not directly or indirectly recommend or otherwise solicit the purchase of the securities of CDC excepting by making available copies of the preliminary prospectus and prospectus to persons requesting them.
- (3) CDC and the group, in addition to the usual advertising, will be permitted to inform the public that copies of the preliminary prospectus and prospectus may be obtained at branches of the banks as well as registered dealers in Ontario, and that orders for the securities of CDC may be placed through the banks.
- (4) Following the filing of the preliminary prospectus by CDC, the banks may accept and transmit expressions of interest to the group in accordance with the requirements of section 36(2) of the Act and the group shall maintain the record of distribution of the preliminary prospectuses required by section 37.
- (5) In the event that an amendment to the preliminary prospectus is required under section 40, it will be the responsibility of the group to transmit the amendment in accordance with subsection 3 to each recipient of the preliminary prospectus through either the agent bank or directly to the party named on the record maintained in accordance with section 37.
- (6) The notices, circulars, advertisements, letters, and other communications permitted under section 36(2) may state that a copy of the preliminary prospectus may be obtained from the banks as agents for the group.

- (7) For the purpose of the "know your client" requirements, the group is not required to make any special enquiries concerning the suitability of the purchase for the particular purchaser apart from assuring that the prospective purchaser receives the preliminary prospectus, the prospectus and any amendments in accordance with the requirements of the Act.
- (8) In compliance with section 64, the group may arrange to have the banks deliver preliminary prospectus and prospectus on their behalf but the ultimate responsibility for their delivery shall rest with the group.
- (9) Arrangements concerning the transmittal and acknowledgement of expressions of interest, orders to purchase, funds, the delivery of the confirmation of the transaction by the group to the actual purchaser in compliance with section 67, and the delivery of the securities to the customer may be made at the discretion of the group and the agent banks by either the group or the banks providing the confirmation must be made to the party placing the order with the bank with the ultimate responsibility resting with the group.
- (10) This order shall remain in force until the Commission is notified by the group, in accordance with section 54(2), that the group has ceased to engage in the distribution to the public of the securities through the prospectus contemplated by this order.

Statement of Commission Policy

ONTARIO SECURITIES COMMISSION POLICY 3-04

(Replaces Existing Policy 3-04)

PRELIMINARY PROSPECTUSES AND PROSPECTUSES

1. COPIES REQUIRED FOR PROCESSING AND FILING

To facilitate the processing of preliminary prospectuses and to ensure that copies are immediately available in the public files, the following number of copies will be required:

(a) Preliminary Prospectuses:

(i) All Issuers: four copies of the preliminary prospectus including a copy signed and certified in accordance with the requirements of the Act, and

(ii) Supporting Material: two signed copies of all reports and consents required.

(b) Prospectuses:

(i) Industrial, Investment, and Mutual Funds - five copies including a copy signed and certified in accordance with the Act.

(ii) Mining and Oil: six copies including a copy signed and certified in accordance with the Act.

2. RECEIPTS FOR PRELIMINARY PROSPECTUSES AND PROSPECTUSES

(a) Preliminary Prospectus - Where Registration Necessary

Where the preliminary prospectus discloses a proposed underwriting by an underwriter who is not then registered or a proposed distribution by the issuer directly to the public through a security issuer registration, the Director may issue a receipt for the preliminary prospectus provided there is contemporaneously filed with the Director an application for the appropriate class and category of registration. Regard must always be had to the fact that the limited trading permitted by section 36(2) of the Act following the filing of a preliminary prospectus can only be done by registrants.

(b) Prospectus - Where Registration Necessary

Where the preliminary prospectus discloses the necessity for obtaining either an underwriting or security issuer registration, the Director will only issue a receipt for a prospectus when he is contemporaneously prepared to grant the appropriate registration. (As a matter of procedure, the Commission's Deputy Director Filings, and Deputy Director Registration, will co-ordinate their efforts to achieve this result.)

(c) Prospectus: Where the Issuer is in Default in Complying with Statutory Requirements

Where the issuer is under an obligation to comply with the Proxy and Proxy Solicitation requirements or the Financial and other Disclosure requirements of the Act and the regulations (including by reference the appropriate requirements of the Ontario Business Corporations Act) and is in default as to any of those requirements the Director will normally decline to issue a receipt for the prospectus until the default is remedied.

(d) Prospectus: Insiders in Default of Filing Requirements

Where a director or senior officer of the issuer is in default in complying with the insider trading reporting requirements of either The Securities Act or the Ontario Business Corporations Act as the case may be, the Director will normally decline to issue a receipt for the prospectus until the default is remedied.

3. FAILURE TO PROCEED WITH FILING: ABANDONED FILING

Where there is no positive response to the first or any subsequent deficiency letter issued by the Commission following the filing of the preliminary prospectus for a period of 60 days following the date of the letter, unless exceptional circumstances are shown to the Director, he will view it as an abandoned filing and instruct that the Commission's files be closed and public notice of the fact be published in the Weekly Summary.

Statement of Commission Policy

NEW ONTARIO POLICY 3-18A

(55 G)

SECTION 59 ORDERS: APPLICATIONS FOR EXTENSIONS OF TIME

Policy 3-18 states, in part, as follows:

"since (an) application must be predicated on an intention to sell orders with respect to 'control' persons will normally permit the sale of the specified number of securities for a period of not more than three months".

The Commission has recently received a number of applications which effectively request an extension of the three month limit fixed by the original order. It is concerned by the indication in the renewed application that the original application might not have been made with a real and present intention to dispose of the securities which were the subject of the application.

Before granting an exemption, the Commission must be assured that the applicant is not in possession of any material facts concerning the issuer which are not generally known and which, if known, might reasonably be expected to affect the market value of the issuer's securities. If the applicant intends to dispose of the securities three months is a reasonable time to market them in an orderly way. If some special circumstance develops which prevents their sale either in whole or in part, the Commission will consider amending the order by extending it for a further three months providing:-

- (1) the application for amendment contains a reasonable explanation as to why it was not possible to complete the sales within the time limit;
- (2) is accompanied by an affidavit made by the applicant stating:

"The applicant for whose account the securities to which this application relates intends to sell these securities and hereby represents that he has no knowledge of any material change which has occurred in the affairs of the issuer of the securities which has not been generally disclosed and reported to the Commission, nor has he any knowledge of any other material adverse information in regard to the current and prospective operations of the issuer which have not been generally disclosed".

- (3) is accompanied by a $25 fee.

A further request for an extension will require a completely new application.

 J.B. Johnston representing the Ontario Securities Commission

This was a hearing under s. 144(1) and (2) of The Securities Act ("the Act") to determine whether the Ontario Securities Commission ("OSC") should order that all trading in securities by or on behalf of Western Ontario Credit Corporation Limited ("Western") should cease.

Another panel of the OSC held a hearing involving the same parties and issued a cease trading order on February 1, 1973 (Feb/73 OSCB 15). That decision was appealed to the Supreme Court of Ontario, Divisional Court, and its decision rendered on September 20th, 1973. It decided that there was a denial of natural justice in that the OSC's notice was not sufficiently detailed to cover the hearing before the OSC. It allowed the appeal and set aside the OSC's order without prejudice to the serving of a new notice of hearing.

A new notice of hearing was issued on October 5, 1973 and an amended notice of hearing was issued on January 21, 1974. After several adjournments the present hearing, spanning three different days, took place.

The central core of the notice alleged that the named respondents offer and have offered securities to the public without complying with the registration and prospectus provisions of the Act. More particularly the notice alleged that the respondents offered investment contracts classified as securities under s. 1(1)22 (xiii) of the Act, and which were not mortgages under s. 19 (2)4 and S. 58(2)(a) of the Act so as to be entitled to the exemption from the registration and prospectus provisions. The broad issue in this case then is whether the evidence shows that the respondents offered securities within the meaning of the Act and not mortgages which are exempt. Before turning to that issue it is necessary to sketch out certain facts.

Western is an Ontario incorporated company carrying on business related to mortgage transactions through several offices in South-western Ontario. Its chief executive officer is Mr. B. Walman ("Walman"). Its subsidiary, WOCCO Investments Limited ("WOCCO"), is also an Ontario incorporated company. Western, trading as Income Mortgage Services ("IMS"), is registered as a mortgage broker under The Mortgage Brokers Act, R.S.O. 1970 as amended. The operations of all three of these firms or entities were supervised by Walman.

C and M Financial Consultants Limited ("C & M") is a company engaged in mortgage related transactions in Ontario. It acted as a commission agent for Western through some thirty different individuals in Ontario and Quebec to sell on behalf of Western, what we shall style for the moment by the neutral term, investment plans. No one of the respondents or their human agents have ever obtained registration or filed a prospectus under the Act.

The nature of the business conducted by the respondents may best be understood by examining some of the sales material used, and detailing the documentation of a typical transaction covering a period in the years 1971 and 1972. Pursuing this analysis in chronological order the following statements appear inter alia, in advertising literature bearing Western's name:

"We invest your money for you, guarantee a safe 8% per annum interest, offer an opportunity to reinvest and compound your interest - all with your original investment completely secured!"

"WHY Western can guarantee 8% on your investment! Western invests your money in carefully selected first mortgages on single family homes and commercial buildings usually located in areas which have been carefully analyzed by our specialists for their growth and future value.

We obtain residential and commercial mortgages from selected builders and developers who require a steady flow of cash to continue their programs. We also buy mortgages from home owners who have taken back mortgages on properties they have sold and later discover that they need the cash. Such mortgages generally pay less than 8% interest but the discount price to Western raises the annual yield in excess of 8%. We also purchase mortgages negotiated directly with home owners through associated companies from time to time. "

"HOW Western guarantees 8% interest! You choose from 3 Plans;

1. Quarterly cheques for interest and principal;
2. Quarterly cheques for interest only;
3. Automatic reinvestment and compounding of interest."

Mrs. M.A. Woods of Toronto, a retired school teacher, testified that she had initially invested in IOS mutual funds through a salesman, Mr. H. Lush ("Lush"), advertising these securities at the Canadian National Exhibition. Lush subsequently became an agent for Western and C & M and persuaded Mrs. Woods to sell her mutual funds and invest $2,000, the minimum investment amount permitted, in the investment plan offered by Western. A document entitled "IMS Purchase Order For Guaranteed Mortgages" signed by Mrs. Woods and witnessed by Lush dated October 13, 1971 served to instruct IMS to purchase "a guaranteed mortgage" from Western. It permitted "a portion of a Guaranteed Mortgage in Partnership with other individuals" to be substituted so long as the signatory's name was registered on the "said mortgage security" with the full amount and terms of the investment recorded. The document showed a $2,000 net advance by the signatory and a placement fee of $30 paid by her. It stipulated that a second mortgage at a rate of 10% was agreed to with the second of three plans, for periodic return of quarterly interest only, to be made available to her.

A letter to Mrs. Woods by Lush on behalf of Western with a copy to Lush dated October 25, 1971 advised her of the liquidation and redemption of her mutual funds certificates, stipulated an "amount contracted for mortgage purchase" of $2,000 and a "placement fee" of $30 and requested an additional amount of $21.30 representing the difference between the liquidation proceeds of the mutual fund certificates and the $2,030.

A letter to Mrs. Woods by Walman on behalf of Western dated October 29, 1971 captioned "Re: Guaranteed Second Mortgage Investment" stipulating a first interest payment date of January 1, 1972 and a maturity date of January 1, 1977, advised that Western would "be earmarking a specific Second Mortgage to you shortly and at that time a complete detailed report will follow".

Mrs. Woods received interest cheques dated January 1, 1972 and April 1, 1972.

A letter bearing the letterhead of C & M and the notation "Representing Western and IMS" to Mrs. Woods dated February 21, 1972 advised that the fee paid for servicing the mortgage purchase was deductible from income for tax purposes and explained that C & M was "an associate of the group of companies under the direction and control of" IMS and Western and its duties were "to co-ordinate and administer your financial planning needs, and to continue your efficient client service". It added that "C & M will, as the demands arise, introduce new concepts in the guaranteed investment financial planning field".

A letter to Mrs. Woods by Walman on behalf of Western with a copy to "C & M, H. Lush", dated March 29, 1972 confirmed that Western had "earmarked a $2,000 portion" of a specific second mortgage identified by a residential address with principal of $8,400 of mortgage. The letter advised that Western would forward "the mortgage" and a detailed report on return of documents from the Registry Office. It closed, "We look forward to being able to service your investment needs for many years to come."

A letter to Mrs. Woods by Walman on behalf of Western with a copy to "C & M, H. Lush", dated April 5, 1972 enclosed a "Mortgage of Mortgage to you" registered on April 4, 1972. The letter stipulated that Western "reserves the right, should it become necessary, to replace said mortgage with another mortgage having principal balance outstanding in excess of the Guaranteed Mortgage Account".

An indenture under The Short Forms of Mortgages Act dated February 25, 1972 and registered

March 6, 1972 between joint mortgagors and WOCCO as mortgagee described the property earlier referred to in the correspondence with Mrs. Woods and created a mortgage on that property in the principal amount of $8,400 with a five year term and interest of 12%.

A subsequent document entitled an indenture dated March 30, 1972 and registered April 4, 1972, which we shall call the assignment, referred to the above-mentioned mortgage and described the mortgaged property. It showed WOCCO as the "assignor of the first part" and Marjorie L. Brown and Mrs. Woods as the "assignee (sic) of the second part" and Western as the "assignee and administrator and guarantor of the third part". The designation of the parties to the assignment was somewhat confusing with an interchanging of the terms parties and assignees. However, the recital portion of the assignment appeared to record the following premises, inter alia:

1. That Mesdames Brown and Woods had agreed to purchase a $7,000 portion of the $8,400 mortgage with a $5,000 portion held by Mrs. Brown and a $2,000 portion held by Mrs. Woods, with the excess vested in Western;
2. That it had been expressly agreed that Western should retain the administration and collection of the mortgage on behalf of the assignees of the second and third parts, and should retain all funds collected subject to its obligation to pay to Mesdames Brown and Woods $7,000 plus 10% interest.
 - (a) However, it provided further that Mesdames Brown and Woods on default of payments for three months and sixty days notice to Western could exercise the above-mentioned rights.

3. That Mesdames Brown and Woods appointed Western as their attorney to institute any proceedings which Western in its sole discretion deemed necessary to secure and enforce the mortgage.

The assignment portion of the indenture assigned to the assignees "all that the said before in part recited mortgage", the sum of $8,400 then owing and the mortgaged real estate.

Finally, the assignment recorded the proviso that Western reserved the right to pay off the principal to Mesdames Brown and Woods without bonus or notice at any time and to replace the mortgage with another mortgage.

The assignment was executed by WOCCO alone.

Other oral and documentary evidence was adduced. One such document was another indenture effecting an assignment in somewhat similar terms to the one described above except that the mortgage principal owing was $65,000 and the number of assignees of the second part was eleven individuals or married couples with portions ranging from $2,000 to slightly over $11,000. It thus appears that the number of investors who could make up a syndicated group to take the assignment of a portion of mortgaged property could be greater than eleven, since their individual stakes were relatively small, where the amount of principal owing on a particular mortgage was large.

Mr. Laidlaw and Mr. Thompson made three arguments, first that the OSC was without jurisdiction to make a current cease trading order, second that an order could not issue without Counsel for the OSC identifying which document or documents constituted the security, and third that the assignment, the last mentioned document in the sequence described above, was not an investment contract but rather a mortgage within the meaning of S. 19(2)4 and thus exempt from the registration and prospectus provisions of the Act. We deal with each of these arguments in turn.

Counsel founded their first argument as to jurisdiction on the premise that S. 144 spoke in the present tense. They submitted that Western and its associated companies had changed their methods of doing business since the first hearing in this matter so that of all the documents referred to only the mortgage and subsequent assignment were currently in use. They argued further that while Counsel for the Commission would not have to show that the securities which might be affected were in use immediately before the order, where he had been informed that certain of the documents which he alleged formed all, or part of, the investment contract were no longer used, he could not invite the OSC to take jurisdiction to issue a cease trading order which might affect such documents.

We do not accept this limitation to our jurisdiction. First the use of the present tense in the operative part of S. 144, "The Commission may ... order ... that trading shall cease", does not imply that the securities must be currently in use so as to be immediately and practically affected. It is sufficient for the present exercise of this discretion in the public interest that documents which OSC Counsel alleges are securities were in use at some time reasonably proximate to his request for the order. Here the documents were in use at a time very shortly before the first hearing in this matter. The span of time between that first hearing and the present consideration of a cease trade order was extended by the affected party, quite properly, using the appellate procedure to attack the order. Where the appellate court has referred the matter back to the OSC with the requirement that a more informing notice of hearing be issued there is sufficient reason for the OSC's Counsel to proceed with the evidence available to him at the first hearing. Furthermore, the specific package of documents which formed the basis of the arrangement with Mrs. Woods is not of historical interest only. The obligation of Western and associated companies to her, founded on those documents, is a current one with three of the five years yet to run. And it is contemplated that at the end of the five years there may be a renewal by

Mrs. Woods of the current investment plan. In fact C & M has founded a claim for an additional commission on just such a possibility, notwithstanding that its commission agent relationship with Western has been severed. Such a renewal would constitute a future trade in a security, if the investment plan here under consideration is a security.

Additionally, accession to the limited jurisdiction argument here would create the peculiar anomaly that an issuer could cease to employ certain documents to forestall a cease trading order and then commence to use a somewhat different mix of documents but with the same business purpose thereafter. We believe the Legislature intended that S. 144 should be used to clarify such a situation. The power to make a determination that a cease trade order should issue or not with reasons as to whether the first set of documents is a security subject to the Act is in the public interest and within the scope of S. 144 as we view it. Such a determination then would permit an issuer to organize his affairs in a manner that complies with law or to be secure in the knowledge that the allegations of OSC staff that the use of such documents violated the Act were unfounded.

The second argument poses the question whether it is necessary that one or several specific documents be selected from the mix of documents with a determination that those selected ones constituted the security. In this case we accept Mr. Johnston's submission that the entire range of documents must be looked at before a determination can be made as to what is the investment plan or alleged investment contract. Here a total assessment is necessary. First there is no single document which spells out all the rights and obligations of the purchaser. Second particular rights and obligations evolve and are added to as one moves from one document to the next in the chronological package. Even if one focuses on the last document in the chain - the assignment - it introduces terms and conditions which are novel, which have not appeared before. Thus to focus on one or several documents in the chain would give a distorted picture of the bargain into which the purchaser had entered. It would do a disservice to all interested parties in inhibiting our ability to determine what, in essence, this investment plan is. Furthermore, it is not the actual language of the documents but the substance of the transaction which is most relevant to our present purpose.

This approach of looking to the package of documents and the totality and substance of the transaction to determine the essential nature of the arrangement between an issuer and a purchaser and the economic reality of that bargain is consistent with the usual canons of interpretation applicable to securities legislation both in Canada and the United States. Three leading U.S. Supreme Court authorities, Securities and Exchange Commission vs. W.J. Howey Company and Howey-in-the-Hills Service Inc., 328 U.S. 293, S.E.C. v. United Benefit Life Insurance Company, 387 U.S. 202 and Tcherepnin v. Knight 389 U.S. 332 embraced by the Alberta Supreme Court in A.G. Alberta v. Great Way Merchandising Ltd. (1971), CCH. Vol. 3, p. 12,526 make this abundantly clear.

In Great Way the Alberta Supreme Court first quoted an oft cited proposition from the U.S. Supreme Court decision in Howey and referred to it and the other two U.S. authorities as follows:

"The legal issue in this case turns upon a determination of whether, under the circumstances the land sales contract, the warranty deed and the service contract together constitute 'an investment contract' ... It follows that the arrangements whereby the investors' interests are made manifest invoke investment contracts regardless of the legal terminology in which such contracts are clothed'."

The (Howey) Court looked at the various contracts and decided the arrangements involved investment contracts. They in effect looked to the substance and disregarded the form. In United Benefit ... the reverse process in deciding what was a security was applied" ... the contract need not be characterized in its entirety...". The Court in the first case combined separate contracts, which individually did not constitute investment contracts, so that together they did constitute an investment contract. In the second case, part of the contract was separated from the rest and such part was declared to be an investment contract.

The Alberta Court also quoted from the U.S. Supreme Court's judgment in Tcherepnin:

... we are guided by the familiar canon of statutory construction that remedial legislation should be construed broadly to effectuate its purpose. The Security Exchange Act quite clearly falls into the category of remedial legislation ... Finally we are reminded that in searching for the meaning and scope of the word "security" in the Act, form should be disregarded for substance and the emphasis should be on economic reality.

Referring to this last mentioned proposition the Alberta Court said, "In interpreting our Securities Act, I am of the opinion, the same principles should be applied".

It is this approach which has guided us in the present case - to look at the substance of the arrangement between issuer and investor regardless of the legal terminology used and to analyze the economic reality of their relationship.

We come then to the fundamental issue before us - whether the transactions described above involved a trade in an investment contract or the investment in a mortgage. The Canadian authority which most fully considers the question of what are investment contracts is Great Way referred to earlier. There the Alberta Supreme Court decided that a merchandising scheme which involved a pyramid distribution of rights to purchase goods from a discount department store involved trading in investment contracts subject to the Securities Act. The Court stated:

An investment contract surely is one which provides for investment. In Commissioner of Taxes vs. Australian Mutual Provident Society (1903) 22 N.Z.L.R. 445, at 450 Stout C.J. said:

"What, then, is an 'investment'?" It is defined by Webster in his dictionary as meaning, "The laying-out of money in the purchase of some species of property, usually of a permanent character".

Skeat, in his Etymological Dictionary, says, "invest" means "to lay out money"; and in Wharton's Law Lexicon the same meaning is given. In Latham's "Johnson's English Dictionary" the meaning given of "invest" is, "Putting out capital (i.e. establishing a vested interest in it) for the purpose of obtaining interest for it". The root idea is the "putting out of money".

The Alberta Court also rejected the narrow interpretation which counsel for Great Way sought to place on the definition of investment contract contained in the Howey case:

The (Howey) Court ... stated:

"The term 'investment contract' is undefined by The Securities Act or by the relevant legislative reports. But the term was common in many state 'blue-sky' laws in existence prior to adoption of the federal statute and, although the term was also undefined by the state laws, it had been broadly construed by state courts so as to afford the investing public the full measure of protection. Form was disregarded for substance and emphasis was placed upon economic reality. An investment contract thus came to mean a contract or scheme for 'the placing of capital or laying out of money in a way intended to secure income or profit from its employment'. ... This definition was uniformly applied by state courts to a variety of situations where individuals were led to invest money in a common enterprise with the expectation that they would earn a profit solely through the efforts of the promoter or someone other than themselves."

Counsel seizes on the word "solely". I do not think the case in the Supreme Court of the United States is authority for the proposition that by the combination of non-investment terms with investment terms the resulting contract ceases to be subject to The Securities Act.

(For an extended discussion of the Howey principle and an expansive application of the term investment contract see Loss, Securities Regulation Vol. I at p. 483 and following, and Vol. IV at p. 2500 and following.)

Other recent Canadian decisions which place a broad interpretation on investment contract or security include Re O.S.C. and Brigadoon Scotch Distributors Ltd., 1970 3 O.R. 714 (H.C.), Re Sanderson and OSC, 1972 3 O.R. 329 (C.A.). In Re Bestline Products of Canada Ltd. et al. v. The Securities Commission (1972), 29 D.L.R. (3d) 505 (B.C.C.A.), the British Columbia Securities Commission had issued a cease trading order which was appealed to the British Columbia Court of Appeal, the Court found that purchasers of distributorships at all levels of a pyramid distribution scheme were paying only the price of the products to be distributed together with other legitimate merchandising charges. It thus held the investment element was minimal and investment contracts or securities within the meaning of The Securities Act were not being traded. The B.C. Court, however, approved the legal principles distilled by the Alberta Court in Great Way from U.S. authorities and produced an additional test from U.S. precedent for determining whether an investment contract existed:

... the salient feature of securities sales is the public solicitation of venture capital to be used in a business enterprise - subjecting investor's money to the risk of an enterprise over which he exercises no managerial control.

Applying these legal principles to the evidence here, we conclude that the investment plan is an investment contract and not a mortgage. First looking at some of the incidental features of the transaction, the proceeds to the investor are based on a rate of return set out in an "investment agreement", and not the rate of return set out in the document entitled "assignment of a mortgage" or referred to in one of the letters as a "mortgage of a mortgage". The investor has an option of investing as late as the 10th day of the month and yet receives the rate of return as if he invested on the 1st day of the month. Western permits an individual investor to make payments on a periodic basis rather than on a lump sum basis. This diminishes the notion of a contribution to and the purchase of a specific item of or interest in real property. Western offers a variety of plans. The choice of three of these plans was set out earlier in the description of documents. That a flexible and imaginative variety of investment plans might be spawned was suggested in the February 21, 1972 letter which stated that "C & M will, as the demands arise, introduce new concepts in the guaranteed investment financial planning field". Finally, the assignment which Mrs. Woods ultimately received was registered and delivered to her in documentary form some five and one half months after she contracted for (and received) her guaranteed interest payments and gave over her funds for investment. During this five and one half month time span, at the very least, there can be no argument that she held a mortgage as the quid pro quo for her deposit.

Focusing now on the interest she ultimately received, however one describes the relationship between the investor and the initial mortgagor, it is clearly not that of a straight-forward mortgage. To begin with, the mortgage is between a mortgagor and WOCCO as mortgagee. Then the investor's interest is recorded as if she is a second assignee of a document made not between Western and an immediate contracting party, the investor, as was the initial purchase of an investment plan, but rather between WOCCO on the one hand and a group of investors who might be described as a syndicate of second assignees and Western as another assignee on the other hand. Looking at the specific interest in real property which the investor receives, it is apparent that Western and its subsidiary WOCCO could deal widely with the proprietary interest without the investor's consent. They reserve the right to replace or substitute one specific interest for another. Western is selling a mortgage selection and investment skill. The investment in this skill is the motivating factor in the transaction. The investor is purchasing and relying on Western's expertise. The investor does not receive an interest in property that he has any role in choosing. It is chosen solely at the discretion of Western. The investor has no right to reject it. Nor does the investor go to the site to examine it, and he may find a rapid succession of property interests replacing one another as his portion of the assignment. In the sales literature, Western holds itself out as having a special expertise in mortgage investments and invites the investor to rely on that. There is no suggestion that the investor should obtain separate legal advice with respect to the purchase of a specific interest in property.

Looking at another aspect of the relationship between Western and the investor, it is apparent that the investor is purchasing administrative skill. The investor relies on Western's administrative services in collecting the amounts owing on a mortgage and paying over different amounts at different times to the investor.

Finally, the investor is purchasing a guaranteed return, but the guarantee is based essentially on the credit of Western and the assignment of the interest in property is collateral or secondary. And since Western has the unilateral right to substitute one specific interest for another, the value of this collateral security could be reduced to very little over night. Western's profit and its ability to meet its guarantee commitment is based on the difference between the interest rate it guarantees to the investor and the discount at which it purchases mortgages and the higher rate of interest owing on those mortgages. Even the stringently circumscribed ability the investor has to enforce any rights with regard to that real property only accrued after sixty days of default in payment and after ninety days notice to Western. By that time the specific interest assigned to him might well have been replaced rendering this typical right of a mortgagee nugatory.

Taking all of the evidence together, we conclude that the investor here was putting money out essentially to purchase the skills, expertise and administrative services of Western and the use or employment of those skills and ability to produce a guaranteed interest return. The investor was not essentially buying a specific interest in real property, i.e. a mortgage.

This conclusion is similar to one reached on almost identical facts by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Los Angeles Trust Deed & Mortgage Exchange v. SEC (1960) 284 F 2d 162 (U.S.C.A., 9th Circ.). Moreover, the focus on the investment contract as the primary or essential feature of the plan and on the interest in real property as collateral or secondary is consistent with the Alberta Court's conclusion in Great Way where it stated:

"The authorized Representatives Agreement provides that the Distributor is to pay monies to the company. He is to receive a commission on certain sales. These provisions to my mind are investment provisions. Standing alone they would constitute an investment contract. However, combined with them are other provisions providing for matters which are not investment matters. To earn a commission the Distributor must distribute the purchase authority cards. Part of the monies paid by him are earmarked for the purchase of products. However, I think it a fair inference that were it not for those portions of the monies paid by the Distributor not related to the cost of products, the scheme would not go forward. Further, it may be fairly inferred that the Distributor will only be interested in the scheme because of the commission he will earn and, a portion of this earned commission is attributable to the fact he has invested monies.

In my opinion, once the agreement contains provisions for investment, the fact these provisions had been intermingled with provisions relating to non-investment matters does not exempt the resulting contract from the provisions of The Securities Act. The Act may not be so easily avoided. The Securities Act is remedial legislation and should be interpreted as such. It does not absolutely prohibit transactions such as the one at bar, but requires that they be approved first for the public protection. The investment of monies in this case is a substantial, if not the predominant element in the arrangement. An investment contract, by being burdened with non-investment provisions, cannot be so disguised as to lose its identity. The investment provisions infect the whole. I do not deny that there could be a contract in which the investment provisions are so minor and so submerged in non-investment provisions, that in essence the resulting contract would not be an investment security as provided in the Act. However, in my opinion, such is not the case here."

Mr. Laidlaw asked us to consider whether the final document in the series of transactions described above - the assignment of the mortgage or the mortgage of a mortgage - taken by itself and shorn of the earlier transactions would also be considered an investment contract, and not a mortgage.

We are prepared to respond to that request. We conclude that it would be an investment contract. Most of the incidents of reliance on the skill, expertise and administrative services of the issuer are brought together in the document. The economic reality of the situation is that the investor would not view himself as purchasing a specific interest in real property with a view to receiving the benefits and exercising the rights of a mortgagee with regard to that interest in property. The major element that is missing from the transaction isolated by Mr. Laidlaw is the five and one half months in which the investor's money is held by the issuer without allocation to any specific interest in property. The removal of that delay time, by itself, in our view, is not sufficient to convert what is in essence an investment contract into the purchase of a mortgage.

We order that all securities issued by or on behalf of Western should cease until Western complies with the registration and prospectus provisions of the Act. The order has no application to trades in mortgages by Western.

A STATEMENT TO THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

BY

THE HONOURABLE JOHN T. CLEMENT

MINISTER OF CONSUMER AND COMMERCIAL RELATIONS

INTRODUCING THE SECURITIES ACT, 1974

JUNE 7, 1974

Mr. Speaker:

I would like to announce my intention to introduce to-day a New Securities Act for the Province of Ontario.

This New Act achieves four important objectives. First, it brings together in a more ordered and systematic way the various amendments to the present Act which was passed in 1966.

Secondly, this New Act will implement major new policies recommended by the 1969 Report of the Canadian Committee on Mutual Funds and Investment Contracts, a 1970 Ontario Securities Commission Report on Disclosure and the December 1973 Report of the Select Committee on Company Law Regarding Mergers and Amalgamations.

Third, this legislation has been discussed in detail with representatives from other Provinces and we anticipate that it will find acceptance as a uniform Provincial Securities Act. Uniformity of regulation for Canadian capital markets is an important objective which we share with the other Provinces. In this regard, the New Act which I will introduce to-day will make unnecessary recent draft legislation at the federal level which was designed to implement the 1969 Mutual Funds Report. Our New Securities Act will achieve the same result but within the more comprehensive and systematic context of general securities legislation which is possible only at the Provincial level.

Finally, we believe that there is a need for further measures to protect the individual investor in securities markets. Investors have the right to expect these measures. At the same time, the liquidity and efficient allocation of capital we require from our capital markets depend upon investor confidence in the protection he is offered. This New Act will certainly help to support and increase confidence in the securities market.

The regulation of the securities industry in Ontario has, from its inception, been designed to prevent fraudulent conduct in securities trading and to provide adequate and timely disclosure to the market. The major changes proposed in this New Act will reinforce these two principles.

Insider trading provisions will be strengthened by extending them to all reporting issuers without regard for the form of business organization. Reporting issuers will be considered insiders of themselves to parallel changes in corporate legislation permitting companies to purchase their own shares. Mutual Fund Management and distribution companies will be defined as insiders of the Mutual Funds they manage or distribute. Insider liability will be extended to any person who acts on the basis of confidential information. There will be a general prohibition against tipping insider information and against trading based upon such information.

The self-dealing prohibitions of the Mutual Fund Report have been included in the New Act. Mutual Funds will not be allowed to make loans to their officers or directors, its management or distribution company or their associates. Compensation to associates not described in the prospectus will be prohibited as well as self-dealing or insider trades in fund portfolio securities. A statutory standard of care in the management of a mutual fund will take effect and undue concentration of the assets of a fund will be prohibited.

Changes have also been made in disclosure requirements and general trading procedures to put existing and prospective investors in a better position to make intelligent decisions. A reporting issuer has been expanded to include corporations offering securities to the public under The Business Corporations Act on the principle that The Securities Act should be all inclusive in the area of investor disclosure. Provisions for disclosure will apply to all issuers, unincorporated as well as incorporated and they will also be expanded to include issuers outside Ontario which have obtained debt financing through a prospectus, as well as equity.

To the present requirements of reporting issuers such as regular financial reports and an annual information circular has been added the concept of statutory timely disclosure.

Mutual funds will be required to provide a confirmation of sale containing special information such as the price of the share per unit, the amount deducted for sales charges or service fees and the fees payable upon redemption or surrender, if any. Additional requirements will apply in the confirmation of a trade under a contractual plan. The importance of the information contained in the confirmation of trade cannot be overestimated because the period during which the trade may be cancelled begins when the confirmation is received.

The present requirement that registered advisers disclose any financial or other interest they have in securities which are the subject of a written communication has been extended to include dealers and disclosure for the adviser's partners, directors and officers and any others who would be insiders of the adviser if it were itself a reporting issuer of securities. The purpose of this change is to require registrants of the Ontario Securities Commission to disclose conflicts of interest to the public.

Investment decisions are often made on the basis of information contained in advertising and sales literature used by a registered dealer rather than the prospectus. Under the New Act, the Ontario Securities Commission may require copies to be filed with it, and the Commission will have the authority to prohibit use if it finds the material to be deceptive or misleading.

Mr. Speaker, these are only a few of the many substantive changes which this New Act will bring into being. We believe that the small investor will directly benefit from these new requirements.

Whether or not we invest directly as individuals, the securities industry plays an important part in our lives. Through the New Securities Act and the activities of the Ontario Securities Commission, we hope to increase public confidence and assurance in the value, fairness and efficiency of our capital markets.

Thank you Mr. Speaker.

Commission

This is an appeal pursuant to s. 140(3) of The Securities Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 426, by Lafferty, Harwood & Partners Ltd. (the "applicant") from a decision of the Board of Governors (the "Board") of the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "Exchange") dated July 5, 1973, whereby the re-application of the applicant for membership in the Exchange was refused. The appeal is by way of hearing and review, entitling the Commission both to review the decision of the Exchange and hear new evidence. The Commission is given the discretion to confirm the decision under review or make such other ruling as it deems proper.

The applicant had earlier applied for and been refused membership by the Board by a decision of June 26, 1972. That decision was reviewed by an earlier panel of the Commission and the decision affirmed by the Commission's decision of February 1, 1973, (Feb. 1973, O.S.C.B. 26). The business history of the applicant and the circumstances surrounding two events in which the applicant was involved in 1968 and 1969 were there discussed in detail, obviating the need for a detailed development of factual matters here.

The nature and scope of the Commission's jurisdiction on applications of this kind were set out in that earlier decision and it is useful to repeat the statement here:

"We do not consider it a proper exercise of our jurisdiction (under s. 140(3) and under S. 28(2) to which S. 140(3) directs us), to substitute our judgment for that of the Exchange merely because we may disagree with the decision they have come to or because we may have given a different decision. If the Exchange has proceeded on some incorrect principle, or has erred in law, or has overlooked some material evidence, or some new and compelling evidence was presented to us that was not presented to the Exchange, then we would deem it proper to interfere with a decision of the Exchange. In the absence of such factors we do not believe it to be a proper exercise of our jurisdiction to so interfere."

Mr. Laidlaw's submission attacked the Board's decision from several approaches. First he contended that the Board denied the applicant membership in its first decision for the applicant's conduct in relation to the 1968 and 1969 incidents and denied the re-application for the failure of Mr. Lafferty to apologize for that conduct. Second he argued that the Board confused the concepts of past conduct and current attitude in its second decision making it impossible to tell why the re-application was denied. Third he suggested that the Board failed to heed the proposition in the Commission's first decision that the passage of time might lead to a reconsideration of past events in the light of subsequent conduct.

These three prongs of argument, in Mr. Laidlaw's submission, showed that the Board has misdirected itself on the principles to be applied and constituted an error in law.

In addition, Mr. Laidlaw submitted that new evidence which he introduced at this hearing, viz. acceptance by the Board of other applicants who had been previously disciplined by regulatory authorities or toleration of conduct by existing members which occasioned discipline by other regulatory authorities and acceptance for membership by another exchange of this applicant demonstrated error by the Board here in applying its standard inconsistently and in a discriminating or arbitrary fashion. For any or all of these reasons he submitted the Board's decision should be reversed.

Mr. Howard submitted that the Board applied correct standards to the re-application, that it did not overlook any material evidence and that the applicant had not presented any new and compelling evidence in the present hearing to call into question the Board's decision. For these reasons he submitted that there were no grounds for the Commission to interfere with the Board's decision, within the reviewing framework enunciated earlier.

We propose to examine first the standards, tests and conclusions of the Board in the decision under review and then consider whether any of the deficiencies alleged by Mr. Laidlaw appear.

It is apparent from the record that the Board considered whether the applicant presently demonstrated the qualities of judgment and sense of responsibility expected from a member of the Exchange. It is clear too that the Board employed the principle articulated at the conclusion of the Commission's earlier decision which anticipated a re-application:

"Time may change many things, but it cannot erase past conduct. It can, however, lead to a reconsideration of those past acts in the light of subsequent conduct."

The applicant made a lengthy submission to the Board and was questioned at some length by Board members in particular to determine his present attitude to the two 1968 and 1969 incidents.

In the 1968 incident the applicant had publicly counselled its clients on a number of occasions that there was a high probability of success for Leitch-Highland Bell in a damage suit against Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. At one point it quantified this probability as an 85 vs. 15 percentage. It did qualify the advice, however, and made it clear that certainty in litigation was impossible and that clients must make their own judgments. When it was announced that Leitch-Highland Bell was unsuccessful, the applicant publicly implied that the result might be explained on the basis that the trial judge, the Chief Justice of Ontario, permitted himself to be influenced by political pressures and was biased in favour of the successful defendant's lawyer. Those statements had been held to be irresponsible and a reckless disregard for the truth in the previous Board's and Commission's decisions.

The Board questioned Mr. Lafferty about these statements and made two findings: first that he was motivated to discredit the judge's decision to justify his predictions and second that his explanation that he now realized it was wrong in law to allege dishonourable conduct against a judge without supporting evidence continues to demonstrate a lack of responsibility.

We can find nothing erroneous in these findings. It was argued that the applicant did not make a prediction he had to justify and consequently the Board was in error in discerning that justification was the motivation. We conclude that there were ample grounds for the Board to conclude the applicant had made a prediction and that there was nothing in the applicant's statements to the Board which would negate or neutralize the logical inference that the applicant attempted to justify his prediction by suggesting improper motivation by the trial judge.

It was argued that the Board had misapprehended the applicant's explanation that he now realized it was wrong in law to impugn the integrity of a judge without evidence as still displaying a lack of responsibility. It was argued further that the Board was insisting on abject contrition and hypocrisy by the applicant to absolve past conduct which he now realized was improper in law. We do not accept these arguments. The Board was entitled to find that the applicant's present explanation demonstrated a standard of judgment and responsibility lower than the Exchange would regard as proper. It should not be necessary to rely on legal counsel to determine whether or not such conduct is appropriate. The Board quite properly looked for and did not find either a recognition by the applicant without professional advice that conduct of that sort was irresponsible or that Mr. Lafferty had developed a sense of judgment which would ensure no similar disregard for the truth and for the reputation of others without reliance on professional counsel and without considering whether or not the conduct strictly falls within or without the boundaries of law in the future. His affirmative answer to a Board member's question "I understand your answer to ... be that the only reason you have changed your view is because the law says you should change your view" considered in its full context is simply deficient of those qualities of judgment and responsibility that the Exchange is entitled to expect and demand from its members.

The Board's findings also focused on the second incident - the 1969 transaction in which Mr. Lafferty found that his firm held shares for its own account contrary to its published policy. He ordered them disposed of before its financial year end to avoid a capital deficiency contrary to the Montreal Stock Exchange's requirement. They were disposed of through an accommodation trade with a foreign broker at a price higher than market and returned to the firm at the same price which was lower than cost and thus permitted the loss to be spread over two years. The earlier decisions found that Mr. Lafferty had not shown the degree of probity and personal responsibility to be expected in the departure from the firm's published policy and in the manner in which the published fact of a capital deficiency and loss was avoided. When probed by the Board as to his present attitude towards this accommodation trade, known as "window dressing", he acknowledged that the accommodation trade was improper but responded that a more sophisticated form of window dressing might have been acceptable to deal with the situation. On examination of the record of the Board's questions to the applicant and his responses we can find no grounds for reversing the Board's finding that "the concern ... that the applicant showed a lack of appreciation that what it was doing was deceptive, still exists" and that "Mr. Lafferty ... still has difficulty in accepting the reality of situations adverse to his interests and in accepting any personal responsibility for them".

It was argued that it was unrealistic to expect that the applicant should admit personal wrong for the accommodation trade when the trade and the Montreal Stock Exchange's fine resulting therefrom were currently the subject of litigation. We do not accept this argument. We conclude the Board was entitled to expect that the applicant would not engage in "window dressing" - sophisticated or not - to cover up not only a trading practice at variance with the firm's published policy upon which his clientele had come to rely, but also to avoid a capital deficiency at year end. We conclude that the Board was entitled to expect a greater degree of personal responsibility by Mr. Lafferty for contradiction of the firm's policy of not trading for its own account.

It now remains to consider Mr. Laidlaw's contentions that the Board misdirected itself. We find that the Board's rejection of the applicant's re-application was based essentially on his present attitude to past conduct. The rejection was not based on the applicant's failure to apologize for past conduct. Furthermore, it is apparent that the Board probed the applicant's present attitude toward his past conduct at considerable length. It neither rejected him for that past conduct alone nor did it fail to heed the Commission's proposition that subsequent conduct might lead to a reconsideration of past acts. An unblemished record in five years since the 1969 event in the light of the applicant's present attitude is not sufficient for us to conclude that the Board committed any of the reviewable errors in exercising its discretion. In addition, there is no evidence that the Board overlooked any new material relating to the conduct of the applicant and reflecting favourably upon him in coming to its conclusion.

Mr. Laidlaw argued before us that the evidence of recent acceptance of the applicant by the Midwest Stock Exchange, a larger exchange than the Toronto Exchange, was new evidence which should persuade us to reverse the Board's decision. We conclude not. The mere fact that another exchange in another country has come to a different conclusion regarding the applicant is not sufficient to show reviewable error by the Board. We have had the opportunity to consider the standards and evidence which yielded the conclusion of the Toronto Stock Exchange's Board and no similar opportunity with regard to the Midwest Stock Exchange's decision. Hence the two decisions are not parallel and we have already determined that there is nothing inappropriate in the Toronto Exchange's standards as applied to the applicant emerging from our review.

Finally, Mr. Laidlaw argued that the Board was inconsistent in applying its standards as evidenced by its acceptance of other applicants who had previously been disciplined by other regulatory authorities and further by its failure to discipline its own members who had been the subject of discipline by other regulatory authorities. He submitted that this demonstrated arbitrary or discriminatory application of standards. He further contended that the failure of the TSE to require information about such past discipline in its application form demonstrated a disinterest in such conduct on the part of others and discrimination when such information produced a negative conclusion for the applicant.

We do not find reviewable error in the parallel Mr. Laidlaw has constructed. First it is apparent that the applicant has been rejected for reasons relating to his present attitude towards his past conduct and not for the conduct itself. Further, there is no evidence which would demonstrate either what the attitude of others was at the time of the acceptance or at the time the Board considered their past conduct. In addition, there is no detailed evidence as to the nature and consequences of the conduct of those others which provoked discipline. To sum up, there is nothing upon which we could determine whether the Board adopted a position of improper tolerance to the present attitude of those others vis-a-vis their previous conduct. While the Exchange may be faulted for not showing a sufficiently inquiring concern for previous discipline of others, it does not follow that it has committed reviewable error when it has apprehended previous conduct of the applicant - one incident of which provoked discipline by a regulatory authority, the other of which did not - and after thorough deliberation comes to certain conclusions against the applicant's interest.

For all of these reasons, we conclude that there is no basis upon which we should interfere with or disturb the Board's decision. We reach this decision with considerable regret because without considerations of broad judgment and responsibility it is apparent from the total record that the applicant has a unique ability to perform investment analysis in considerable depth and to bring fresh insights and new creative energy to the investment community, qualities which any community depends on to innovate, to adapt and to serve the public interest. Nonetheless, a vigorous and vigilant regard for the qualities of judgment, attitude, and responsibility in its potential membership must be the abiding watchword of the Exchange in its concern for the public interest and nothing done by the Commission should derogate from that regard.

DATED at Toronto this 30th day of May, A.D. 1974.

Counsel

duPont Glore Forgan Canada Limited (the registrant) was incorporated as a private company under The Canada Corporations Act on April 2nd, 1971, for the purpose of taking over a securities business which first came under non-resident ownership in Ontario in May, 1951. The registrant was and is a wholly owned subsidiary of duPont Glore Forgan Incorporated (the parent), a non-resident United States corporation which in turn is controlled by PHM & Co., a partnership of whom Mr. H. Ross Perot of Dallas, Texas, is the managing partner. For reasons wholly unconnected with the registrant, the parent sought a buyer for this Canadian subsidiary and subsequently entered an agreement with a major United States securities firm, Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis Incorporated (the proposed purchaser) to sell the enterprise subject to the approval of the transfer of control to the proposed purchaser by the Canadian regulatory authorities. This application was made in furtherance of that agreement.

The registrant is a non-resident controlled dealer within the definitions found in O. Reg. 95/74 which came into force on February 18th, 1974. This regulation, which restricts the percentage of non-resident ownership in any Ontario registrant to a maximum of 25 per cent, continued the so-called grandfather exemption under which the registrant's registration had been permitted to continue when the original restrictions were imposed on July 14th, 1971, through O.R. 296/71, so long as there was no material change in ownership. The sale from the parent to the proposed purchaser would result in a material change.

The Intervenor, and in particular The Toronto Stock Exchange, argued that the Commission was without jurisdiction under the new regulation to entertain the application. While the language does provide the basis for the argument, we believe the intent of the regulation is clear. The public interest is best served by considering the application on its merits through the principle enunciated in Section 6g of the regulations, and we have concluded on the facts and circumstances of the present case to permit the transfer of control from this non-resident controlled registrant from the present parent to the proposed purchaser would be prejudicial to the public interest. The application therefore has been refused and the applicants notified.

The head office of the registrant is in Toronto with branch offices elsewhere in Canada. It conducts a retail or agency brokerage business in Canada and is a member of the Toronto and Montreal Stock Exchanges as well as The Investment Dealers' Association of Canada. On the evidence of its president, Robert J. Chapman, some of its strengths have been through the United States' associations it had through its parent and which would continue through the proposed purchaser. The registrant is able to provide access to the United States markets for other Canadian dealers and their clients. It adds to the stability of the market through the arbitrage trading it conducts in securities traded in the New York, Montreal and Toronto markets. While it does participate as a member of the selling group in distributions it does not hold itself out as an underwriter, the evidence being that it had taken a first step in that direction last year with some hope of expanding this role.

Albert Pratt, the Vice-Chairman of the Board of Directors of the proposed purchaser, also gave evidence. The proposed purchaser is a major United States firm interested in expanding their activities outside of that country. It may be concluded that so far as acceptability is concerned, apart from being a non-resident, the sponsorship of the proposed purchaser has more to commend it than that of the present parent in light of the problems experienced by the parents associates over the past several years. Mr. Pratt told us of their intention to offer up to 20 per cent of the registrant's shares to its Canadian officers and employees. This did not alter the reality, he made it clear, that in the end result the policy and direction of the registrant must be determined by the controlling shareholder. Again, obviously in an effort to respond to Canadian concerns, the proposed purchaser intended that all but one of the registrant's directors, and that one was to be Mr. Pratt, should be Canadian resident citizens. Mr. Pratt described the benefits of the registrant's association with the proposed purchaser, including the resources and ability of the proposed purchaser to provide financing for Canadian industry and government in the United States.

The intervenors and staff counsel raised a number of proper concerns which we have not found it necessary to consider in view of our conclusions.

The public interest must be considered in the light of the declared intent and policy of the Government of Ontario. In the present case it is clear. The Premier, the Honourable William Davis, in advising the Legislature as to the non-resident ownership restrictions imposed through regulation that day, July 13th, 1971, stated in part,

"We believe it to be essential that ownership of investment companies remain substantially Canadian.

Therefore, we are now taking steps through the Ontario Securities Commission to ensure that all new entrants into the Ontario investment community meet these standards, with the capital owned or controlled by non-Canadians not exceeding 25 per cent, and no more than 10 per cent being owned or controlled by a single person or associated group of persons who are non-Canadians. These limitations would apply to all classes of securities dealers. They would also apply where there is a material change in the control of an existing registrant."

This then is the condition to which the registrant has been subject to since July 14th, 1971.

On August 4th, 1971, the original regulation was amended by adding a power which gave the Commission discretion to grant registrations where the non-resident ownership exceeded the allowable limits or to permit material changes or variations in the non-resident ownership of registrants falling within the grandfather exemption. The then Minister of Financial and Commercial Affairs gave the following reasons for this amendment,

"The number of firms involved is quite small and this discretionary power for the Securities Commission will be of help primarily to those firms affected during the transition period as the new regulations take effect. A few firms had been quite far along the line towards establishing themselves here when the policy on foreign ownership was changed."

(1971 O.S.C. Bulletin 98)

In response to the Premier's request, which was contained in his July 13th statement, the Commission undertook a study which was reported and published in April, 1972, the Report of the Securities Industry Ownership Committee of the Ontario Securities Commission (the Report). This was referred to during the course of this hearing. Two members of this Commission's panel, Messrs. Bray and Strathy, were members of that committee and endorsed the report. In the summary of conclusions and recommendations, at page 121 of the Report, it states,

"We do not believe it to be in the public interest to provide Ontario firms with protection from the innovative and efficient practices suggested for the existing foreign controlled firms."

This proposition was in support of the conclusion, as detailed at page 123 of the Report, that the compulsory Canadianization of existing non-resident firms recommended by industry organizations should be rejected and, that subject to certain conditions non-resident controlled registrants should continue to hold that status. The first of these conditions was,

"There is no material change in the ownership of the non-resident controlled firm, either direct or indirect. A material change in ownership will include not only ownership in the Ontario registrant but ownership in any firm which may itself directly or indirectly control capital in the registrant. "

The most recent Commission decision involving an application for consent to a material change in control was in Re: Laidlaw Securities Canada Limited (1973) O.S.C. Bulletin 100. In that case, on the evidence before it which was not contradicted by the then intervenors, the Commission found that should the firm disappear with it would disappear a unique and beneficial service provided by it to a number of Canadian registrants and their clients. There were a number of additional factors which were considered from which it was concluded that it was not prejudicial to the public interest to permit the material change in control, which was not a complete change, but that to refuse to consent might result in a material loss to the Ontario community.

While the positive factors were carefully presented in the present case, and the professionalism and reputation of the registrant's present senior executive and the proposed purchaser was conceded by the intervenors, we could not find that any special or unique case had been made out for the approval requested. The parent wishes to dispose of its Canadian asset. We were advised that it was under no urgent financial constraints forcing the sale. It has been aware since 1971 of the conditions attaching to the registration of its subsidiary and the public policy, should it wish to sell, in effect directing it to seek Canadian resident purchasers. The services it offers are being performed by a number of other Ontario registrants. There could be no clearer case of the situation contemplated by public policy, where a material change in control must result in the reduction of non-resident ownership to the 10/25 per cent ownership limits for new entrants or the surrender of the registration.

The public interest was declared in the Premier's statement and the original regulation. It has not changed. In the exercise of any discretion given, the Commission must have the prime directive in mind that the Ontario investment community should be Canadian owned and thus directly responsible and responsive to the Canadian interest.

This is a hearing and review of a decision of the Board of Governors of The Toronto Stock Exchange (the "Exchange") communicated to the applicant, Fiscal Consultants Limited ("Fiscal"), through a letter from the Exchange's President, J.R. Kimber, Q.C., dated December 19th, 1973, undertaken at the request of Fiscal pursuant to subsection 3 of section 140 of The Securities Act, R.S.O., 1970, c. 426.

Fiscal holds registration as an investment counsel, a category of adviser under the regulations to the Act. It is clear from the evidence submitted to us, including that of its President, Leonard N. Watt, that Fiscal acts exclusively as a portfolio or investment manager and not as an adviser at all. Under contractual agreement, its clients give it complete discretion to manage their investments. The client deposits his money and securities with a custodian of his choice, usually a bank, and all deliveries and payments are made directly to and from that custodian. Fiscal gives instructions to the brokers and the custodian but handles none of the client's funds or securities itself. It agrees to keep the name of its clients secret, assigning the client a number for identification. It will accept a client only on this basis. The client is not asked to accept or reject the advice. His alternative is to withdraw from the agreement. Fiscal has a number of substantial clients. Their trading would be attractive to any broker.

Fiscal trades in its own name as the client of the particular broker identifying the client for whom it is trading by the identifying number. Prior to the recent amendments to the commission rate structure found in the Exchange's By-Law 15, (the "by-Law"), on occasion Fiscal found it expedient to pool the orders of a number of its clients in order to take advantage of the volume rebate in commissions available through section 15.11. The Exchange proposed changes in its commission rate structure and following extensive public hearings the Commission gave approval in principle to amendments to sections 15.01, 15.04 and 15.11 (1973 O.S.C.B. 105). The new sections, incorporated in By-Law 108, were approved by the Exchange membership and submitted to the Commission. The Commission approved By-Law 108, subject to a minor amendment irrelevant to the present application, on November 22nd, 1973. No amendment was suggested to what is now section 15.11.

In its original form, section 15.11 provided for volume rebates on transactions of $100,000 or more. In addition, it permitted what was called during the course of the hearing a "bunching" of orders. For the purpose of computing the rebate, a series of orders executed during any consecutive five-day period could be bunched together and considered as though they were a single order provided, as with a single order, the orders were "placed by one client for one account and for an individual security".

The new commission rate structure provided for what it calls a tapered structure, where the commission discounts or rebates commence with orders over $20,000. Section 15.11(a), which now defined an "order", was to be applied in the computation of commissions under the substituted rates in section 15.01. It therefore is important in determining whether and what rebate is available under the tapered discounts.

Fiscal was concerned by this amended definition. While it is silent as to the consequences it repeated the language from the former section 15.11(1), orders placed by one client for one account for an individual security, and for greater certainty expanded it by adding that the order should be on one side of the market and filled in one day (other than "bunching" over five consecutive days as previously). It also added one further condition, that delivery must be made to one location.

This latter condition attracted Fiscal's attention. They wrote the Exchange under cover of a letter dated December 17th, 1973, enclosing a written submission alleging this new condition to be discriminatory. Mr. Kimber's letter followed.

The applicant seeks relief from section 15.11(a) on two main grounds. Firstly, it urges that the Exchange be instructed to amend the section by deleting the words, "and for which delivery is to be made to one location".

Alternatively, it seeks a declaration that Fiscal's practice, described in detail in the written and oral evidence, should be declared to be an order for one client notwithstanding the fact that Fiscal might be placing one order for several accounts. We find ourselves unable to agree with either submission.

In our reasons of August 9th, 1973, we examined the factors leading to the present rate structure with care. The institutional investor was able to demand relief with the Commission burden being adjusted through the spectrum of trading. Bunching was permitted to continue. However, section 15.11 was amended to further discourage any pooling of orders for several accounts. This change was noted and approved by the Commission at the time it approved By-Law 108. We are of the view for the reasons below that it would be contrary to the public interest to encourage pooling of orders for several accounts. In passing, we question whether Fiscal was entitled to volume discounts under the old section 15.11 where it pooled orders for several accounts to make up the total.

To the member broker, under the arrangements stipulated, Fiscal is clearly the "client". The broker must be aware that Fiscal is acting as an agent for undisclosed principals. The use of a special number for the pooled order would conceal the fact that Fiscal was trading for several of its account. However, the delivery and payment instructions might have alerted them to the fact that the order had been placed by their client for a number of accounts. Fiscal manages the portfolios for a number of substantial clients and it might be said that the former by-law was not precise.

The "know-your-client" rule of the Exchange and the Commission gave us some initial concern. However, where the orders are placed by a registered investment counsel, a trust company on behalf of clients or similar portfolio managers the ultimate client has entrusted the management of the account to the adviser, the responsibility shifts to the adviser-manager.

Where an adviser assumes the role of portfolio manager and trades in his own name on behalf of his clients, rather acting under a discretionary authority giving the instructions to trade for the client, he has become a dealer. The responsibility for payment and delivery becomes his in relation to the broker and not his clients'. The risk must be assessed and capital, bonding and contingency trust fund requirements set for this kind of dealer. One other substantial shadow also remains where a portfolio manager pools orders to obtain volume rebates, where the orders pooled are close to but not quite sufficient to attract a rebate is there a temptation to have a second look to see if there are other managed accounts for whom it might be decided to purchase in order to bring the pooled orders up to the appropriate size?

In all of the circumstances, we must therefore refuse the orders requested. Section 15.11 is not free from ambiguity and we would suggest that its language should be reviewed and revised in the light of the arguments raised during the course of these proceedings. As to the ancillary role of investment counsel as portfolio managers this is being further examined to determine what potential problems, if any, the practice, particularly of trading in their own name on behalf of undisclosed principals, might produce.
